VOL. XVII. NO. 165. TOLEDO, OHIO, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1892. LAST EDITION. TWO CENTS.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau.
Toledo, O., Nov. 3, 1892.

The storm central yesterday over the east end of Lake Erie has passed out into the Atlantic ocean. A second storm area is now central north of Dakota and is moving slowly eastward; it is of slight energy, and as yet has caused no marked change in the general weather conditions over that section of the country.

The area of high pressure is still central over the western Rocky mountain slope, but is advancing east and will cause the weather to clear in this section by to-night.

The temperature has risen decidedly over the extreme northwest, and fallen slightly or remained stationary in all other sections. It will grow slightly cooler over the Ohio valley and lake region to-day.

During the past 24 hours rains have been general over the entire country east of the Rocky mountains. The weather is generally cloudy over the greater portion of the country this morning, but the rainfall will be very light over the lakes

Local forecast for Toledo and vicintiy for the next 36 hours—Fair, and slightly cooler.

Found — not lately, but 25 years ago — something that perfectly and permanently cures Catarrh in the Head. It's Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy — and where everything else fails, that cures. The worst chronic cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. See if yours won't. The makers of this Remedy say it will. And they make you this offer: if they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case, they'll pay you $500 in cash—and they mean it.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh; Headache; obstruction of nose; discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. You won't have all at once; probably only a few of them. But you won't have any of them, if you'll take Dr. Sage's Remedy.

FOLDING BEDS

You Can Do Almost Anything

With our Gosben folding bed. There used to be an idea that two into one wouldn't go; this bed upsets the notion completely. It doesn't, like the chameleon, change its color, but it does change its character, and it is as handsome as a bed at night as it is as a book-case in the day-time. It is one of the happiest combinations of modern ingenuity, and in an instant it turns your sleeping apartment into a handsomely appointed library. Perhaps you have an idea that this double advantage carries with it a double cost. It does not. Call and see it and learn the price.

OVER THE OSTRICH

Ran the Big Steel Steamer Gilcher.

Little Doubt That the Big Boat Was Lost

In a Collision in That Awful Storm.

Seven More Lives Added to the Disaster.

Captain Corbett Saw the Lights of a Big Steamer Disappear in the Vicinity of the Fox Islands.

Cleveland, Nov. 3.—(Special)—It is now considered certain that the large steel steamship W. H. Gilcher, which has been overdue at Milwaukee since last Saturday, has gone to the bottom of Lake Michigan with all hands. While there seemed to be some doubt yesterday as to whether the wreckage that was seen near the Manitou Islands and reported by several vessels, was part of the Gilcher, the owners all admitted that they thought the big boat must have been lost. They think that she either struck a reef or was in collision, which resulted in the loss of both vessels, probably with all on board. There is said to be a life saving crew on one of the Manitou Islands, but they are inaccessible by wire, and it may be two or three days before the whole truth is known, if ever. Meantime the newsgatherers are hard at work in search of every vestige of evidence which may assist in affording an explanation as to how the awful calamity occurred. The disaster resembles the loss of the steamer Western Reserve, in that many of the officers and crew lived in the vicinity of Cleveland, and many an anxious heart along the south shore of Lake Erie is aching with suspense.

A week ago the Gilcher left Buffalo for Milwaukee with 3,000 tons of hard coal, and passed the Straits of Mackinaw Friday at 2 p. m. Since that time not a word had been heard from her. Her managing owner, Captain J. C. Gilchrist, of Vermillion, has been daily becoming more uneasy and having come to this city Wednesday forenoon said he believed there was no longer any doubt that the steamer had gone to the bottom with all hands. "The white bridge and upperworks correspond precisely with those of the Gilcher," said he, "but what is more conclusive than anything else is the fact that she should have been, at the time the gale reached its height, right in the locality where the wreckage was found."

The effect of news among the Cleveland marine men was almost as marked as when the work came that the Western Reserve was no more. It caused no end of discussion, and the vessel men expressed many different opinions as to the fate which had befallen her. Some think she ran on South Fox Reef, but the reasoning of some others seems to refute that idea. The wreckage was seen twenty-five miles farther in her course, and the wind had not been blowing from the proper direction to carry it there. Had the vessel been so damaged as to sink some time after striking a reef, Captain Weeks could have found shelter in a shorter distance. The probability is that the steamer collided with a schooner which was crossing her bows, and sustained such damage as to go to the bottom immediately. This idea is borne out by the fact that wreckage of a schooner was discovered by the same mariners who found that of the steamer, and in the same locality.

The list of the crew, so far as can be learned, is as follows:

LLOYD H. WEEKS, master, Vermillion.

EDWARD R. PORTER, first mate, Lorain.

—— FINLEY, second mate, Buffalo.

SIDNEY B. JONES, chief engineer, Marine City, Mich.

—— KING, wheelman, Chicago, formerly from Vermillion.

—— THOMPSON, oiler, Vermillion, a son of Daniel Thompson.

CHARLES HONTOON, oiler, Marine City, Mich.

WILL FAULHABER, fireman, twenty years old, Vermillion.

This leaves ten men the names of whom are unknown.

A special dispatch from Chicago, received last night, is as follows:

"The probable loss of the Gilcher will result in revolutionizing lake underwriting. This was the general sentiment which prevailed in marine circles to-day.

Vessel captains in port spent much time in discussing the probable course of the Gilcher in leaving the Straits and entering Lake Michigan. The steamer Niko lay at anchor under South Manitou Island Friday night, leaving there at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. The night was perfectly clear, and he could see across the mainland. Captain Jones is certain that the Gilcher did not take that course Friday night, as nothing passed up to the time he left. The steamer Robert Mills, in coming up the lake, took the course by the Squaw island and Seul Choix lights, and of course saw no wreckage. He pronounces this new course in northwesterly gales, as being far better than the old way of coming in behind the island and getting the full force of the storm near the east shore. Had Captain Weeks, of the Gilcher, followed the new course, the boat would have doubtless been all right now.

The insurance companies are hard hit by to disaster. The Gilcher was insured for $180,000 divided by agencies. The losses are: Smith, Davis & Co., Buffalo, $80,000; Crosby, MackDonald & Co., Chicago, $25,000; C. W. Elphicke & Co., of Chicago, $25,000; David Vance & Co., of Milwaukee, $25,000. Immediately after the loss of the Western Reserve the manager of one insurance company having a big risk on the Gilcher, her sister boat, ordered his company's insurance on the Gilcher to be all reinsured. He would accept no explanation that the Western Reserve had been lost through a combination of circumstances which were not likely to occur again, and peremptorily ordered his risk reinsured.

"Chicago marine men are generally of the opinion that the Gilcher did not strike the hidden rock or had been in collision. They believed that when she got in the terrific sea she could not withstand the strain, and that she simply foundered. The present system of rating and insurance on steel boats will doubtless be overhauled before the opening of navigation next spring."

The following came by telegraph last night from Port Huron: "Captain Corbett, of the schooner Waukesha, which arrived to-day, reports that he was in the vicinity of Fox island during the late gale. Both he and the crew state that they saw the lights of some large steamer disappear very suddenly. Captain Corbett is positive that the steamer foundered. It was blowing a gale at the time, and the Waukesha lost jibs and foresail. Captain Carzells, of the steamer Westover, reports passing through a quantity of wreckage around the Foxes."

A dispatch from Buffalo states: "Insurance men say that the Gilcher is the largest single loss in lake history. Her coal was shipped by Coxe Bros. Captain Thomas Maytham owns an eighth interest. Second Mate Finley was the only member of the crew residing in Buffalo."

The following message from Frankfort supports the collision theory: "Wreckage from the steamer Ostrich came ashore at the Manitous yesterday. The crew of six men and a woman are supposed to be lost. This is the boat that some people think had a collision with the Gilcher, which resulted in the loss of both vessels."

Tug Sunk.

Cleveland, Nov. 3.—The tug James Amadeus, owned by L. P. & A. J. Smith, and sent by them with two steam pumps, the property of M. A. Bradley, to the schooner H. P. Baldwin, stranded near Colchester, Ont., and sank with her load about 4 o'clock yesterday morning when within a few miles of Point au Pelee. The steamer Raleigh rescued the men from the sunken tug's raft and took them to Detroit. It was reported on the docks last night that three men had been drowned, but this was learned later to have been a mistake. The tug Charles Henry left at midnight to locate, if possible, the lost tug, and to attempt to raise the pumps and an expensive diving outfit which were on board.

Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 3.—Grain rates were firm at 2 1-2 cents for wheat to Buffalo, with a big demand for boats.

Duluth.

Duluth, Nov. 3.—Grain shipments have stopped for a time notwithstanding yesterday's drop to 3 1-2c for wheat to Buffalo.

Buffalo.

Buffalo, Nov. 3.—Coal freights quiet and unchanged... Charters—Vail, Baltic, Chicago, 75c; Saveland, Milwaukee, 70c.

Capt. Ennes, of the steamer Hansing, reports passing through wreckage in the middle of Lake Erie. It consisted of stairs, window, compass box, etc. Vesselmen here think it is from the barge Sunshine, which was battered into a total wreck while at anchor off Point Pelee.

Three or four deck hands and a male cook were shipped on the steamer Gilcher when here. The cook was named Wilson and the names of the others are not known.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Frank E. Kirby, of the Detroit Dry Dock company, who is in the city to-day, states that his company has just closed a contract for a 4,000-ton steel steamer to be built for Capt. E. M. Peck, of Detroit, Harvey H. Brown, of Cleveland, and others. She will be 342 feet keel; length, 362 feet over all; 42 feet beam, and 25 feet deep, with double bottom. The new boat will be a straight back on center line, but with one foot rise aft and two feet rise forward in order to make her straight to the eye. She will be a duplicate of the Pope and Maryland in machinery and her triple expansion engine will be 22, 35 and 56 inches by 44 inch stroke supplied with steam from two cylindrical boilers 14 feet in diameter and 12 feet long fitted with Howden's forced draft.

Cleveland.

Cleveland, Nov. 3.—Notwithstanding the drop in Duluth grain rates Ashland shippers still offer $1.30 freely and the demand from Marquette and Escanaba at $1.05 and 80c respectively, exceed supply of boats. There is a plentiful supply of coal for Lake Michigan ports.

PARSONS' SAVINGS BANK

To Be Established at Auburndale for Auburndalians.

Col. John E. Parsons, L. S. Baumgardner and Others the Promoters—Capital Stock, $200,000.

Auburndale is to have a savings' bank. John E. Parsons, L. S. Baumgardner, A. M. Woolson and other prominent citizens are interested and the fact that they are is a guarantee of its success.

Considerable of the capital stock, which is placed at $200,000, is being rapidly taken.

The Milburn company, Col. Isaac D. Smead and other manufacturers interested in that section of the city, it is understood, will subscribe liberally.

Col. Parsons will probably be president and manager of the bank, which will also do a commercial business.

Auburndale is evidently on the boom.

METHODISTS.

The Board of Bishops in Session in New York.

New York, Nov. 3.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church have been holding daily meetings in the book concern building for the past week.

The greater portion of the time has been occupied in fixing the assignment of the bishops to the various conferences and owing to unforseen obstacles the work has been delayed to an unusual extent.

It is understood, however, that a decision has been arrived at, but it will not be made public for several days.

Among the bishops participating in the conference are the following: Bishop Bowman of St. Louis, senior mem. and presiding officer; Bishop Randolph S. Foster, of Roxbury, Mass.; Bishop Stephen Merrill, of Chicago; Bishop Edward M. Andrews, of New York; Bishop Henry W. Warren, of University Park, Col.; Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, of Philadelphia; Bishop John F. Hurst, of Washington; Bishop John M. Walden, of Cincinnati; Bishop Charles H. Fowler; Bishop John H. Vincent, of Topeka; Bishop James N. Fitzgerald, of New Orleans; Bishop Daniel A. Goodsell, of San Francisco, and Missionary Bishop James M. Thodurn, of Calcutta.

RAILROAD COLLISION AT PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—At 1 o'clock this morning an eastbound freight train on the Ft. Wayne division was run into at the Washington street crossing, Allegheny, by the Keystone express train, also going east. Four of the freight cars were thrown into the track in front of a westbound passenger train and knocked into kindling wood.

FOUR MEN TO BE HANGED.

Louisville, Nov. 3.—Four murderers will be hanged in this city December 9 or 16. They are Nelson Lewis (colored), Grant Thomas (colored), Dennis McCarthy, and Stephen Hite. Nelson Lewis was to have been hanged Friday week, but the governor granted a reprieve so that all four could be hanged together.

FAUROT'S FINANCES.

Settlement of the Lima National Bank Affairs.

Other Claims in Connection With the Affairs of Its Ambitious and Unfortunate President.

Filed with the clerk of the United States court to-day was an order of Judge Ricks' given at Cleveland yesterday in the matter of the Lima National bank receivership, on petition of S. S. Wheeler and H. L. Brice, and on proper notice to stockholders. The court deems it to the best interest of the stockholders to accept, and authorizes the receiver, Otto L. Hays, to accept the proposition of O. M. Stafford, of Cleveland, to release as much of the third mortgage on the Faurot building as secures the liability of B. C. Faurot on his stockholders' liability in the Silvey Electric Light company, to receive and hold $6,489.50, subject to payment of the amount found to be due the bank from Faurot on his liability as stockholder of the Silvey Electric Light company; to transfer to Stafford 15 notes amounting to $148,160.50, with interest, and the mortgage; also the second mortgage on the Faurot farm; also $400,000 of the first mortgage bonds of the Columbus, Lima & Milwaukee Railway company held as collateral for payment of three of the notes, those of the New York Construction company, amounting to $95,449.44, simply with the notes; also $40,000 par value of the capital stock of the Lima Electric Light and Power company upon payment to the receiver of $142,146.22 cash; Faurot, who was president of the bank, to consent in writing before such release and transfer are made.

Beside the three notes of the New York Construction company there are four of B. C. Faurot's, amounting to $21,617.09; two of S. W. Moore (his son-in-law) and others, of $8,000 each; and single notes of Wm. J. Marks, D. J. Cable and others and George Fetter and others.

It was expected that this big transaction, to relieve the solvent condition of the Lima National bank, would be completed at Lima to-day.

Closely connected with the bank settlement are claims filed in the United States court in the case of Hays, receiver, against the C., L. & M. Railroad company, of Frank L. Langan, for a balance of $4,978.46 of salary as treasurer and expenses of trips made, and of A. C. Baxter, an other son-in-law of B. C. Faurot, for $12,000 as payment for services rendered and expenses incurred.

In the case of Hays, receiver, against the W. L. Silvey and others, S. M. Firch filed his separate answer declaring that he is not and never was a stockholder in the Silvey Electric Light company, and was induced by fraud to enter into a contract for the purchase of certain shares, but never received them; and that he knows nothing of other matters in the petition.

INCORPORATED TO-DAY.

The Toledo World's Fair Transportation Bureau.

The Incorporators Are All Well Known Men—What the Plan of the Company Is Like

A stock company, to be known as the Toledo World's Fair Transportation Bureau, was incorporated to-day. The incorporators are General Passenger Agent J. M. Hall of the Wheeling & Lake Erie; General Manager F. B. Drake of the Mackinaw railroad; Division Freight Agent J. M. Sifenburg of the Pennsylvania; G. A. Stockton of the Pennsylvania railroad; Robert B. Dakin and F. E. Trowbridge.

This is the Toledo end of the affair. The Chicago end is being pushed by such men as F. C. Donald, vice chairman of the General Traffic association; E. O. McCormick, general passenger agent of the C. H. & D.; J. O. Curry, president of the Chemical National bank, and others of equal note.

But what is the idea of the Toledo company? It is just this—a plan whereby those who desire can attend the world's fair at Chicago for $39, which insignificant sum will secure a first class railroad ticket from Toledo and return, six days commodious and comfortable hotel accommodations with all meals, daily admission to the fair, a boat ride on the lake, a side excursion to Lincoln park, and a $1,000 accident insurance policy. That's getting the thing down pretty fine.

It will not require a very fat pocketbook to take such a trip after all.

This company has secured and will control the leading family hotels, boarding houses and private residences on the south side near the fair grounds, all of which will be conducted on the principle of one vast hotel. It is expected that the company will take charge of 10,000 people from Toledo and vicinity, and as they assure so much at so little expense they probably will realize their anticipations.

It will be seen that railroad men are interested in this scheme. It is their intention to induce railroad travel and they are holding out these inducements. There will be numerous hotel club schemes, but it is doubtful if any will get ahead of the Toledo company, on terms.

The company intends getting up clubs or parties of congenial friends to go together.

The railroad tickets will be first class on any line, not on excursion trains, and no more than two persons will be placed in one room.

There are a lot of other good kinks in the scheme which will be made known by the company as soon as they bang their shingle out.

THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Sttles Some Claims and Has Others in Hand.

The judiciary committee succeeded in getting together last night and doing some business. It referred claims of John Van Gunten and August E. Eschedor for abatement of frontage tax for paving to Messrs. Huberich and Wolfman agreed to compromise a claim of Charles Schallow for injuries to a horse and wagon in a bad culvert for $25, and to consider a compromise in the claim of John Marnath for a sprained ankle by a rickety sidewalk. A number of frontage-tax abatements were allowed and others referred to members for inquiry as to facts.

GILL WAXED WROTH

He Called Mr. August Machen a Liar

While Machen Was on the Stand in Open Court.

The Case Growing Decidedly Interesting.

Stenographer Bassett Testifies to the Interview

Between Mr. Lorenz and the Three Councilmen — August Machen Gives Some New Testimony —The Cross-Examination Very Rigid.

When court opened this morning, Stenographer Bassett resumed his testimony on examination in chief, relative to the interview between Mr. Lorenz and the several councilmen as taken in stenographic notes by himself. When court adjourned last evening, Tanner and Daly were at the Pluto office, and Mr. Daly was at the telephone talking to Mr. Gill. The two afterwards went out and brought in Gill and the conversation on the same subject was resumed. Gill said he guessed he understood what Lorenz was talking about; that what Tanner and Daly said went; that his vote alone would not count, and further that the people of the Sixth ward opposed the pipe line. Gill said he had received an offer of money only a short time before for his vote and refused. Tanner said, in way of explanation, that he had told Lorenz he could get the ordinance passed for $5,500 more.

Gill said that if he was on the outside of the ring he could get ten times the amount for his vote; that oil was going up and was going to be the fuel of the future. TheStandard Oil company would own the whole shooting match in the end.

Mr. Lorenz, as the conversation was closing, wanted to know if they would have a quorum that evening, to which Gill replied that they could have a quorum if he (Lorenz) would say so.

Mr. Bassett testified that he was very familiar with Mr. Gill's voice, having studied law in the same office with Mr. Gill.

Mr. Bassett also testified to having taken an interview on July 29, that occurred between Geo. Lorenz and Ransom P. Swain.

The defense objected to the introduction of this testimony on the ground that the defendant was not present.

Mr. Barber stated that the state offered the testimony to throw light on the conspiracy and to prove that a conspiracy did exist.

Mr. Tracy argued that the defense, in cross-examination of Mr. Swain, drew out just enough of this interview to afford a pretext of arguing to the jury that it was part of a plot to intimidate and blackmail the other councilmen to have the ordinance passed, and claimed the right to bring out the whole conversation.

This interview, it will be remembered, was admitted during the Daly trial. Judge Ritchie, in explanation, stated that when this interview was introduced before, it was not known but what it would disclose the presence of Mr. Daly, until after the interview had been read by Mr. Bassett, and that the court afterward ruled that the state should confine its testimony to the 21st of June, the day prescribed in the indictment.

Mr. Wright argued that this interview simply related a past event, and was not in furtherance of the common charge, for the reason that it occurred after the date charged in the indictment.

The court sustained the objection.

The defense then cross-examined Mr. Bassett, Judge Ritchie conducting the same.

"I understand you, Mr. Bassett, that on June 21, you have given three interviews, all occurring on that day, with Messrs. Tanner, Daly and Gill?"

"That is right."

"You were located in the cellar near an aperture in the floor, and could hear all that transpired in the room?

"I think I could."

"There are no windows or light in the cellar, but what could come in at the door?"

"There were not."

"Was the door open on June 2?"

"I do not remember."

"What degree of light was there in the cellar?"

"The light was very dim."

"Tell the jury how far you were seated from the door?"

"The rays of light fell on my book."

"Did you have sufficient light to see the characters which you were making?"

"That is not necessary. I could have seen them if I had looked."

"In following your profession as a stenographer, you say it is not necessary to see the character you write?"

"I do."

"Then you can write in the dark?"

"Yes, sir."

"Now, as to the first interview, soon after the 21st of June, did you make the transcript of your notes?"

"I should say about a week."

"Did you experience some trouble in translating your notes?"

"I did; yes, sir, for the reason that the conversation taken by me was broken in places."

"Tell us how long you were located in the cellar before Mr. Tanner called."

"About half an hour."

"Did you see Mr. Lorenz after Mr. Tanner came?"

"I did not."

"You do not know where Mr. Lorenz was located?"

"I do not."

"You did not see Mr. Tanner?"

"I did not."

"Did you see Mr. Daly?"

"I do not."

"Did you see Mr. Gill?"

"No, sir."

"You speak then of their being present solely by your acquaintance with the voice and names that were called during the conversation?"

"Yes, sir."

"If Frank had been called it might have been some other Frank than Frank Tanner?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was not some of this conversation spoken rapidly and with interruptions?"

"Yes, sir."

"Under those conditions, could you faithfully report the conversation of these persons talking at the same time?"

"It would be very difficult."

"Could you report the conversation of two persons talking at the same time?"

"I do not think I could; but this did not occur on this occasion."

"How many copies of the transcript did you make?"

"Three."

"Manifold?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you keep them?"

"No, sir. One I gave to Mr. Barber, one to Mr. Geo. Lorenz, and the other to Solicitor Read."

"When did you deliver a copy to Mr. Lorenz?"

"About a week after."

"Who was it delivered to?"

"To Mr. August Machen."

"Then Mr. Lorenz did not get a copy?"

"It was delivered to Mr. Lorenz, as I saw it a short time afterwards in Mr. Lorenz's office."

"Might not you have been mistaken in distinguishing voices?"

"I might."

"Now, supposing that an expert ventriloquist had been in the room above giving the language of Mr. Geo. Lorenz, and imitating his voice and the same of the other voices in the room, would you say this was beyond the reign of impossibility?"

Mr. Barber objected, and the question was ruled out.

This concluded the examination of Mr. Bassett.

Mr. August Machen, secretary of the Pluto Oil company, was called by the state.

He established the officials of the Pluto Oil company as to the introduction of the ordinance for a franchise to lay a pipe line in the streets of Toledo.

The first conversation had with Mr. Gill, the witness testified, occurred on a street car in East Toledo, relating to the Pluto oil ordinance.

The state called for the exact conversation, which was objected to, and sustained by the court.

Mr. Machen then testified to a conversation with Mr. Gill, on the night that the ordinance was in the committee, and that Mr. Gill took the ordinance and represented the Pluto, to see that the ordinance passed and that the Paragon ordinance did not.

Mr. Gill then broke out with "It's a lie; I never did."

Both of his attorneys called him down and the court said:

"Mr. Gill, you will have an opportunity to be heard later on."

The testimony as to Mr. Gill representing the Pluto was ruled out.

Mr. Machen further testified that Mr. Gill voted for the ordinance before the committee; that Mr. Gill said he would do all he could to secure the passage of ordinance, also that he was a friend of the Pluto; also, "You know there are some queer fellows in the council; there is a combination and you want to look out for it."

I said to Gill that we looked to him to carry the ordinance through for us, as he was a power in the board and our friend. I asked him if the combination was in the board of aldermen, and he replied that it was independent of the board of aldermen.

Mr. Machen went on to state that another conversation was had with Gill before the ordinance came up in the council. That he talked to Gill about the number of votes he had; that they had 14 votes, and that they looked to Gill to engineer it through, and that Gill promised to see it through; that he spoke again of the crowd or combination in the councilmen.

The witness testified to another conversation on the day the ordinance came up. That he told Gill he understood he had said the ordinance would be knocked out; that Gill at this said, 'It will not pass tonight, but keep your shirt on, it will go through. You ought to be made to put up $25,000 with the city engineer to guarantee the fulfilment of the contract. The Standard Oil company will own the whole business before a year, and it is worth $100,000 to you."

Mr. Machen related that a crowd was sticking together to knock out the ordinance and go look out for them. He testified to a conversation at the council chamber that evening had with Gill, and that Gill again assured him that he would vote for the ordinance. The next day he saw Gill at his office and he told him that he was surprised at his (Gill's) action in voting against the ordinances. Gill said he should keep his shirt on, that he voted in the negative to be in position to move to reconsider; that he also told Gill that he had found out what the trouble was; that the boys were after boodle and that they had ten votes and were going to pass the ordinance and not pay a cent for it.

Mr. Machen testified to a third conversation with Gill, at which he (Gill) said they had better begin to play ball, to which Machen replied, "So that is what you call it now."

The fourth conversation was testified to which occurred at the council chamber. This time Mr. Machen said Gill came up to him and remarked, "You fellows think you are smart. You set a trap and got your foot in it yourself. You are fooling with a two-edged sword, that will cut both ways."

Mr. Machen thought of a conversation had with Mr. Gill at the Iroquois hotel at Buffalo, N. Y. They were both writing letters and after he (Machen) had concluded his letter he asked Mr. Gill if he was going to be home on the following Monday, when the Pluto Oil ordinance would come up, and that Gill said he would, and intended to do all he could to aid its passage.

Mr. Machen then described his position during the interview between Mr. Lorenz and the councilmen previously testified to by Mr. Bassett.

He corroborated Mr. Bassett's testimony.

Judge Ritchie moved that the testimony of the witness as to what transpired in the absence of Mr. Gill be ruled out, which was overruled.

The cross-examination of Mr. Machen is in progress this afternoon.

Yesterday Afternoon's Testimony.

At yesterday afternoon's session Judge Ritchie continued the cross-examination of Ransom B. Swain by questioning him as to the first meeting at Neuendorf's store. He requested Mr. Swain to repeat the oath taken at the close of that meeting.

"Did each man repeat the oath?"

"No."

"Who did repeat the words?"

"Mr. Doner."

"And the others assented?"

"They did."

"What assent, if any, was given by the others?"

"I think this was said, that if any one objected to the oath they would not join hands."

"Was that before joining hands?"

"It was."

"Now, after joining hands, what was said by any of the members?"

"I don't know as there was anything said."

"Now, we have got down to the time you called at the Pluto oil office. What time was that?"

"Between 9 and 10 o'clock."

"Who did you see there?"

"Frank Schmidt and others."

"How came you to go there?"

"On invitation of Judge Lorenz?"

"Had you been there before?"

"I had not."

"Who did the invitation come from?"

"George Lorenz."

"You had an interview with Mr. Lorenz?"

"I did."

"Isn't it true that in that interview you disclosed to Mr. Lorenz the organization of a combination, as you have testified to this jury?"

"Part of it, yes."

"Did you tell him that a combine had been formed?"

"I did."

"Did you give any names?"

"I did not."

"Did he tell you that he had learned something of the combine?"

"He did; yes, sir."

"It was after he had told you what he knew that you disclosed the fact that you were a member of the combine?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you know why he had sent for you?"

"I did not."

"How soon after this did you see Mr. Barber, the prosecutor?"

"About a week."

"Was it after the meeting on July 2?"

"It was after."

"You also told Mr. Barber about this alleged combination?"

"I did."

"Was this before or after the special grand jury had been called?"

"I think it was before."

"Did you tell Mr. Barber who were in the combine?"

"I did."

"You told him all about the meetings, the obligation, the object?"

"Yes, sir."

"You were not called before the grand jury as a witness?"

"I was not."

"You were indicted?"

"I was."

"You were arraigned with the others?"

"I was."

"You pleaded not guilty?"

"Not in open court."

"Did you in secret court?"

"No, sir."

"Have you had any promise from the prosecutor as to what disposition will be made of your case?"

"I have not."

"You advised Mr. Barber before the grand jury set?"

"I did."

"Where did you see him?"

"At his house."

"Now, Mr. Swain, is it not your belief that in view of your giving testimony against the other indicted men that you will not be prosecuted nor punished?"

"That is my expectation."

"How often have you been in consultation with Mr. Barber since that time?"

"No more than once or twice."

"Did you ever see that hole in the floor?"

"Yes, sir."

"When?"

"Morning of July 4. I went to find out about the report that they were going to prosecute us."

"What was said at that time by Mr. Lorenz, that if the ordinance was passed there would be no prosecution?"

This was objected to by the state, and the objection was sustained and question ruled out.

"Did you see Mr. Gill after this interview?"

"I did."

"Did you not urge upon him the necessity of voting for the Pluto ordinance?"

"I do not remember."

"Did he not say that he would oppose it?"

"I did not hear him say that."

"Can you tell, Mr. Swain, why your memory on one occasion can remember events, months old, so definitely and on another fail to distinctly remember anything?"

"We were only there a half hour."

"Any other reason?"

"That's reason enough."

"Very well, sir; that's all."

Mr. Barber on re-examination, established the date of the interview with the prosecutor by drawing out that it occurred on the same date on which the Toledo Press club gave the moonlight excursion on the City of Toledo.

Slyvester Lamb, city clerk, was next called by the state. Mr. Lamb produced the records of the council, showing that the oath of office had been administered to Wm. J. Gill, the introduction of the Pluto pipe line ordinance. The witness stated from a memorandum that those voting to lay the ordinance on the table were Daly, Doner, Gill, Manchester, Neuendorf, Schmuhl, Swain Tanner and Taylor.

The state then followed the progress of the ordinance in course of legislation, as shown by the ordinance, showing that the combination was formed to vote one way, and proving by the records that the members of the combination did vote as they agreed.

The state called John Felker, councilman from the Seventh ward. Mr. Felker testified to attending meetings of the alleged combine; one at Tanner's office. That Doner asked him if he knew the object of the meeting, and that on being informed that he did not, Doner stated that it was for the purpose of organizing a combine for the purpose of assisting each other in ward legislation; that corporations often were wishing to pay a compensation for legislation.

The next meeting was held at Fisher's club house; that he was invited to attend by Mr. Swain; that the meeting was held in the summer house; that he stepped to the door and overheard Tanner saying that the Consolidated had offered $1,000 each for votes to defeat the street railroad ordinancee, and that the Robisons would have to pay if they wanted the ordinance passed.

Also that Mr. Gill had asked him how he was going to vote on the Pluto oil ordinance; that he told Gill he was going to vote for it; that they were friends of his, and that Gill said he was going to vote against it, but assigned no reason for so doing. He did not attend the meeting of the council that evening.

Mr. Wright then cross-examined Mr. Felker.

He questioned Mr. Felker to show that the meetings were simply held for the purpose of discussing ward legislation.

Referring to the club house meeting, Mr. Wright said:

"At this meeting did you hear Mr. Gill say anything about money?"

"I did not."

"Did you hear him say anything about the Pluto Oil company?"

"I do not think he said anything more than I have already stated."

The state called Mr. Lamb again, and requested him to read the record of the proceedings of the board of aldermen, with regard to the Pluto pipe line ordinance.

Solicitor Read was called and testified as to the organization of the city of Toledo as a city of the third grade and first class, and as to the oath, administered to Mr. Gill at a meeting of the council.

The next witness called by the state was Stenographer Geo. A. Bassett, who testified to being employed by the Pluto Oil company. He related that he was placed in the cellar, beneath the office of the Pluto Oil company on Jefferson street, with his head at the opening of a trap door, near which was located the desk of George Lorenz.

In this position he took notes of the conversation that occurred between Mr. Lorenz and the councilmen who called upon him. Mr. August Machen was present with him, during the whole time, with the exception of once, for a short time.

The notes were then produced and identified by Mr. Bassett.

He testified to making a transcript of the conversations which he swore was correct. This occurred on the afternoon of June 21, 1892.

Mr. Bassett then testified to the conversation that ensued, as taken down by him, in substance as follows:

Frank Tanner was the first to call. Mr. Lorenz wanted to know what was the matter with the councilmen the night before, in not passing their ordinance; that Tanner said they could get the ordinances through if they would put up $5,000; that they had recessed until that night, and if they would put up the $5,500 they would take the ordinance off the table and pass it; that the young fellows were getting tired of working for nothing; that Coleman got the stuff from every "G— D— council he had ever been in;" that he had just got $400 from a certain friend; that he (Tanner) was not a member of the combine, but knew who they were; that he could guarantee 11 votes, or that John Daly could; that Lorenz said he was sorry they commenced on them first; that Tanner said the Pluto was not first, as the Paragon had been to the wall first; that it would take $5,500 of the long green to pass the ordinance and $4,499.99 would not go; that Mr. Lorenz was anxious to get the ordinance through, as they had been notified of proposed advance in the price of pipe; that Tanner said he could not give his vote for $10,000 cash; that it would be impossible to get the ordinance through without the consent of the others; that

SHEEHAN FOR THE RIGHT

He Objects to Federal Interference in New York,

And Marshals Must Keep Out of the Booths.

He Has Judge Brewer of the United States Supreme Court as His Authority.

New York, Nov. 3.—Within the 24 hours last passed, birth has been given to elements which may come together in this city on election day with a sharp crash.

One of the elements referred to is the announced adherence by Attorney-General Miller to the custom of the past under Judge Bradley's decision, in accordance with which the federal supervisors of election have passed anywhere they deemed wise within the election inclosures. The other and opposing element lies in the fact that Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, chairman of the New York democratic campaign committee, has issued an address to the democrats of the state in which he cites Judge Brewer's decision, and he calls on democrats to see that the federal supervisors do not enter the booths.

Judge Brewer, of the United States supreme court, has ruled that supervisors had no right to enter booths or go behind the inclosure, where the ballot-boxes are.

Secretary De Freest, of the democratic state committee, speaking to-day of Mr. Miller's circular to federal supervisors, and of Mr. Sheehan's opposing order to democrats of this state, said he believed that federal supervisors had no right in the booths, and they would not be allowed to go there. He said the democrats would see to it that they stayed outside the inclosure, where the booths and ballot-boxes are. And this construction foreshadows the possible clash of the two elements referred to on Tuesday next.

In his address Mr. Sheehan says: "By section 183 of the code of criminal procedure any person, either a private person or a peace officer, may arrest anyone without warrant, for a crime committed in his presence, and take the person arrested at once before a magistrate. This [illegible] to republican marshals and supervisors as well as to any other person."

Then, as though to press this home, he adds in black-face type:

"Democrats, enforce this provision of the law to the letter, and stand upon your rights as American citizens."

It is believed here that, taking this as authority, the democratic election officials of this city, particularly, will make stubborn resistance to federal officials if they trench upon the lines. Mr. Sheehan has officially marked out, in opposition to the directions contained in the attorney general's circular, issued under the Bradley decision.

That this outcome is anticipated by the federal officials of this city is evidenced by the fact that United States Marshal Jacobus, of this city, to-day sent a telegram to Acting Attorney General Aldrich, calling attention to what he designated the "Inflammatory proclamation of Lieut. Gov. Sheehan," in regard to the presence of federal supervisors at polling booths. Mr. Aldrich responded that he had nothing to say about the proclamation except to refer to the policy of the government on this question as outlined in the instructions issued to marshals, supervisors, etc., yesterday. He telegraphed Marshal Jacobus this afternoon to be governed by the instructions contained in that circular.

It has been to-day ascertained that the law officers of the department of justice at Washington carefully examined the statistics and opinions rendered in cases arising out of alleged violations of election statutes before yesterday's circular was issued by Attorney General Miller. Ex-Parte Siebold et al. is relied on as conclusive of the paramount rights of federal authority over state authority wherever any conflict arises with respect to the conduct of national and state officers at elections for representatives in congress. The opinion delivered by the late Justice Bradley in this case has become celebrated and it is probably quoted more often than any other opinion in arguments before the United States supreme court, it being applied to almost all cases where there is an alleged conflict between federal and state law. Mr. Aldrich, the solicitor general, holds, it is learned, that the respective rights of federal and state authorities is clearly defined in this case.

A considerable part of the argument of the cases was devoted to the construction to be given the words, "make or alter," in the clause of the constitution conferring on congress power to make or alter the regulations the states may prescribe for the conduct of elections for representatives in congress. The supreme court, Justices Clifford and Field dissenting, held that the words "make or alter," gave congress a supervisory power over the subject and that congress might make entirely new regulations, might change state regulations as it saw fit, and might provide for the attendance of officers to prevent fraud in the conduct of the elections. The counsel for the defendants had made much of the possibility that such a construction would lead to collision between the federal and state authorities, which of course should be avoided. The court in its opinion answered this contention with a positive declaration that conflict could not properly arise, because the authority of congress over the subject is paramount, and in its regulations supersedes state regulations, so far as the latter relate to congressional elections.

The national and state jurisdictions were concurrent, but whenever conflict occurred, the former was supreme. It held that the law authorizing deputy marshals to keep the peace at national elections is not unconstitutional and that the national government has the right to use physical force in any part of the United States to carry into execution the powers conferred upon it.

The leaders of both parties here have to-day been further informed from Washington that Acting Attorney General Aldrich sent the following telegram to United States Marshal Walker at Montgomery, Ala., this afternoon:

"See last paragraph of circular mailed yesterday. Use your discretion, remembering and so instructing your deputies that they are peace officers and not partisans and that the law was enacted to secure a free and honest ballot and a fair count."

This was in reply to a letter from Marshal Walker received this morning in which he said:

"I will thank you to notify me by wire if I shall exercise my own judgment as to the number of special deputies to be appointed in Montgomery and Mobile coming under the head of cities of 20,000 inhabitants or more. I ask you for the reason that it will be a difficult matter to find a suitable number of efficient men, men that could be relied upon, in case there is a riot or disturbance on the day of the election, and I would be glad to know the full extent of my authority in order that I may select a sufficient number before hand."

Thus, with the federal officers pluckily led by Supervisor John I. Davenport, and with the democratic state officials made of combative timber, it is not unlikely that the fur will fly in this city next Tuesday.

RELIGION.

London, Nov. 3.—It is denied that the members of the cabinet have been in any way influenced as to accepting an invitation to the Lord Mayor's banquet, by the fact that the new lord mayor is a Roman Catholic, and it is asserted on well informed authority that a majority of the ministry will be present. Nevertheless there is a painful feeling among Roman Catholics in regard to the fact that both Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Harcourt will be absent. The excuse for the latter is the trouble with his eyes.

Deserving Confidence.—There is no article which so richly deserves the entire confidence of the community as Brown's Bronchial Troches. Those suffering from asthmatic and bronchial diseases, coughs, and colds, should try them. Price 25 cents.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 3.—At a meeting of cattlemen from all parts of Canada held here, a resolution stating that in their opinion no contagious pleuro-pneumonia exists in Canada and agreeing to assist the government officials in every way in their power to make the investigations now proceeding effective, was carried unanimously.

TO BE PROMOTED.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 3.—It is reported that William M. Burgard, general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern in this city, is to be promoted to the position of assistant general freight agent. Mr. Burgard is now in the west and the report cannot be confirmed here.

DID NO OCCUR.

New Orleans, Nov. 3.—The great strike of teamsters, loaders and warehouse men of this city, which was to have taken place to-day has been declared off.

IN THE USUAL WAY.

Grayson, Ky., Nov. 3.—Wash James was killed by his nephew, Camp Biggs, at Pleasant Valley, yesterday morning. There has been bad blood between the parties for some time.

HEAVY LOSS.

Columbia Falls, Me., Nov. 3.—The King Brick Manufacturing company's plant has burned. Loss $75,000; insurance $10,000.

HE TALKED TOO MUCH.

A Naval Officer Gets Himself Into Trouble.

John Clyde Sullivan Must Answer for His Uncalled-For Language.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Trouble is brewing in the navy department for John Clyde Sullivan, paymaster of the U. S. S. Mohican, which returned from Bering sea a few weeks ago, and Capt. A. H. Johnson, commander of the vessel, will also have to stand an investigation for running the Mohican ashore on the trip from Puget Sound to San Francisco.

Mr. Sullivan's difficulties, however, are more serious, and grow out of the interviews with him published in the Seattle papers during the stay of the Mohican at that point on her return trip.

Upon the arrival of the Mohican every paper in Seattle published long interviews with Sullivan.

In all of these interviews he is reported as having no sympathy with the cause of the United States in the Bering sea matter, and saying "We have not the shadow of a right to declare Bering sea a closed sea, and the United States will have to pay double for the work we are doing there."

The capital the Canadian papers have been making out of these interviews has served to increase the feeling against Sullivan on the part of the state department officials, and it was owing to the latter that the affair was formally brought before the navy department.

Copies of all the papers containing the interviews have been obtained, and evidence is not lacking to prove that the paymaster has been guilty of extreme indescretion, if not actual insubordination.

DR. PIERSON

Will Stick to the Presbyterian Faith.

He Will Never Turn Baptist and Be Immersed, So He Says.

London, Nov. 3.—In view of the remarks recently made by Dr. Pierson, the famous American divine who had been associated with Mr. Spurgeon for several years prior to the latter's death in the pulpit of the Tabernacle, considerable doubt is thrown upon the probability of his being selected as the permanent successor to the late evangelist.

Mr. Pierson, in addressing a congregation in Philadelphia, said: "I should be untrue to my convictions and my God if I abjured my Presbyterianism to take Mr. Spurgeon's place. I will never turn Baptist, or be immersed."

A meeting of the Tabernacle congregation was held yesterday for the purpose of taking into consideration the condition of affairs in relation to the vacancy of the pulpit.

The meeting was called at the instance of members favorable to the appointment of Mr. Thomas Spurgeon to the pastorate. It was quite private, and extraordinary precautions were taken to exclude all not members of the congregation. The attendance was large.

It was decided that the services of Dr. Pierson should be accepted until June next, and that Mr. Thomas Spurgeon be asked to fill the pulpit for a similar period thereafter. It is not probable that a final decision will be arrived at until after these engagements have been filled.

A FOG ON THE BAY.

New York's Marine Is Under a Cloud.

Numerous Accidents Have So Far Been Reported and More Will Follow.

New York, Nov. 3.—The fog which settled over the bay yesterday evening continues this morning. None of the operators at the reporting stations are able to see incoming vessels except at the upper boarding station and not even then unless they pass close in shore. The City of New York, which was signalled off Fire Island at 8:42 last evening, had not arrived at quarantine at 9:30 this morning. The Guion liner Wisconsin, from Liverpool, which crawled in and dropped her anchor off quarantine at 8:45 a. m.; the Norwegian steamship Ask, from Baracoa, and Brown, from Gibraltar, October 15, are the only steamers out of a large due list which have reported since early last evening.

Numerous slight accidents were reported as a result of the fog. One, in which a vessel was sunk, and at least one man drowned, is also reported. A couple of Battery boatmen ran into a lot of wreckage last night about 10 o'clock which looked as if it might have been the deck work of a small steamer. About the center of the floating mass they saw a lot of clothing and the body of a man.

The fog was also very dense in the city but aside from its uncomfortableness it did no harm. Elevated trains and street cars were run somewhat slowly in order to avoid accidents.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Jacksonville, O., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Two of a bold gang of car robbers, which have been doing a very extensive business at this point for the past two months, were captured last night by the station agent, Mr. D. F. Bowe, when the daring robbers were making their escape with the booty. It is thought that the capture of the two will lead to the capture of the entire band.

As yet names are unknown. Station Agent D. F. Bowe is a former resident of Toledo.

WEDDING.

Butler, Ind., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Mr. Grant Fisk, of Toledo, and Miss Boots, of this city, were married in the presence of 400 invited guests. It was the most fashionable wedding that has ever occurred in DeKalb county. Mr. Fisk is a Toledo traveling man and is well known throughout northern Indiana.

If you wear "Candee" Rubbers you will always have dry feet.

HE SANG BOOM-TA-RA,

And the Police Immediately Ran Him in.

He Was Trying an Experiment and the Court Let Him Off Gently.

New York, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from London says: A remarkable and curious episode growing out of the late election has just come to light at Dover, where the magistrates recently rendered a decision in the suit for assault brought against Major Edwards, the unsuccessful labor candidate for parliament in the late election.

At the church congress held at Dover a few days ago Major Edwards persisted in disturbing the meeting by singing the classic refrain, "Ta-ra-ra Boom-de-ay," and in recognition of his gratuitous contribution to the program was summarily expelled from the hall.

Major Edwards states that he went to the meeting with the intention of creating a disturbance in order to get the opinion of the learned magistrates on the question whether the interruption of a public meeting constitutes a misdemeanor or a breach of the peace, his own meetings prior to the election having been disturbed in a similar manner.

The case was dismissed without costs.

FIRE IN A PRISON.

Thought to Have Been of Incendiary Origin.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 3.—There was a small fire in the shoe shop of the Charlestown state prison last evening that had evidently been set by an incendiary.

It originated in a large box of shoe shanks, the contents of which had been thoroughly saturated with oil, and in the center of which, it is said, was set a clockwork arrangement and chemicals with which to ignite the fire.

There was no confusion among the convicts, ho were all in their cells when the fire was discovered.

It is thought that the incendiaries' intention was to have the fire break out about the time he prisoners were being returned to their cells from the shops, so that in the confusion that was almost sure to follow some of them might escape.

GOVERNOR CAMPBELL.

He Is Whooping It Up in Connecticut.

No Laboring Man Can Afford to Vote the Republican Ticket.

Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 3.—The biggest democratic rally of the campaign here was held last evening in the city hall. The speakers were Hon. L. G. Morris, candidate for governor; Hon. James F. Pigott, candidate for congress in the Second district; ex-Congressman Vance; State Senator Pierce, and ex-Gov. Campbell, of Ohio.

Ex-Gov. Campbell said in part:

"I cannot help but think, after hearing of the action of the republicans in robbing the democrats of the state offices, that the people have had a taste of the force bill in Connecticut. It has surprised me very much and is disgraceful."

The speaker then reviewed the tariff legislation enacted by the republicans. He said the McKinley bill only benefited protected manufacturers, and that no laboring man could afford to vote for the republican ticket.

FEELING STILL WARLIKE.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 3.—Bitter feeling still exists in the section where occurred the war between the free miners and state troops over the convict question. The residence of Wm. Lewis, at Oliver Springs, has been burned and the fire is supposed to be the work of incendiary miners who are bitter because of Mr. Lewis' kindness to the troops. Capt. Fyffe, of the national guard, says matters look serious among the miners and he expectes more trouble.

SEVEN DEAD INDIANS.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 3.—Billy Condon, the well known scout and trapper reached here yesterday with news of a horrible casualty in the O'Kanogan country.

Monday night seven Indians of Chief Joseph's band, secured a large quantity of whisky from which they became intoxicated and while sleeping off the effects of the carousal in a cabin the building caught fire and they were burned to death.

Fine watch repairing—Cawood's.

BIG SALMON SHIPMENT.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 3.—The British steamer Glengarry sailed yesterday for Liverpool, having on board 37,352 cases of salmon. The Norwegian ship Morning Light sailed with a cargo of lumber for the same port. The United States coast survey steamship Guerny, which has been aground on Canoe Island, was towed off Tuesday night by the steamer Active. She sustained no damage.

DIPHTHERIA.

St. Marys, O., Nov. 3.—There is no let up in the diphtheria epidemic at Chickasaw, and although every precaution is taken to prevent the spreading of the disease, this far it has proved useless. Since last Monday 15 new cases and two deaths have been reported, making a total of 65 cases and seven deaths since the disease first broke out 10 days ago.

Diamond rings, $10, $15, $35—Cawood's.

WILL BE NO RACE.

New York, Nov. 3.—It was learned last evening from a trustworthy source that H. Maitland Kersey, of the White Star line, representing Lord Dunraven in the latter's negotiation for a race for the America's cup next year, received a dispatch from Dunraven yesterday saying there will be no race next season. Mr. Kersey could not be found last night.

COL. HORTON DEAD.

Ridgeway, Pa., Nov. 3.—Lieut.-Col. W. S. Horton, of the Sixteenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, died Tuesday of malarial fever contracted while at Homestead with his regiment. Co. Horton was prothonotary of Elk county, and a prominent democrat.

Dessert sets, silver, $10—Cawood's.

DIED FROM HEART FAILURE.

New York, Nov. 3.—Jane Elizabeth Kellogg, the mother of Clara Louise Kellogg Strakosch, died in this city Tuesday evening of heart failure. Mrs. Kellogg had been an invalid for several years.

SAYS JOHN C. NEW.

London, Nov. 3.—"Harrison will carry both New York and Indiana," says John C. New with a good deal of emphasis. He bases his conclusion partly on letters which arrived by the City of Paris yesterday.

Open soon—Cawood's art gallery.

BOTH DIED.

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 3.—William Ripple and Barney Whalen, soldiers at Fort Brown, fought over a woman yesterday. Whalen was shot dead by Ripple, who, to avoid arrest, then killed himself.

SNOW STORM.

Rutland, Vt., Nov. 3.—Rutland had its first snow storm of the season yesterday. On the mountains east of here the snow is from two to three inches deep.

In the case of Hamlin H. Napier against the Monitor Manufacturing company on hearing in common pleas court the jury returned a verdict of six cents. It was an action to recover $65.

The Lackawanna.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—A telegram from Green Bay, Wis., early this morning says the steamer Lackawanna, supposed to have been wrecked near South Manitou island, Lake Michigan, is safe at that port.

THE PERPLEXED TEACHER.

How She Had, Alas! Lost Control of Her Chinese Pupil.

The secretary of the home mission board remembered the fresh-cheeked, black-eyed girl very well. He vividly recalled the time when she came to him and asked to be assigned to religious work among the Chinese. He had never forgotten her enthusiasm and loyal zeal in the cause, and now that she returned to him in evident dejection of spirit his heart was filled with sympathy.

"I am so glad to see you," he exclaimed cordially. "And how many Chinese have you converted!" She sighed. "Not one," was her sad reply.

The secretary kindly contemplated the bowed head and troubled face.

"At least," he gently urged, "your work must have been felt. You have sown the seed by the wayside. Not all of it, surely, has fallen in stony places."

The girl was silent.

"Do you mind telling me," he asked, "all about your work?"

She raised her eyes to his, and in them shone a look of gratitude.

"Yes, yes," she eagerly rejoined, "that's what I came to do. I want your advice."

The secretary smiled reassuringly.

"I went into the Chinese work, as you know. I——"

Her manner was animated.

"Found at the mission a very intelligent but benighted Chinaman, to whose——"

Her cheek grew something rosier as she proceeded.

"Reclamation I resolved to devote my best energies. I laid before him the beauties of a Christian life. I had——"

Her eyes sparkled at the remembrance.

"Taught him to pray and sing, and he was just going to stop eating rats and put on a starched shirt when I——"

She faltered a moment.

"I lost control over him entirely and he relapsd into heresy annd barbarism."

The secretary was pained.

"You didn't quarrel with the poor heathen?" he suggested incredulously.

"Oh, no. Not at all. Worse than that. It was something irrevocable, irremediable."

Her lips quivered and moisture gathered upon her lashes.

"Tell me all," he softly insisted. "How did you lose control over the poor man?"

"I—I——"

It seemed to rend her soul to tell.

"M—married him."

She was sobbing outright. The secretary addressed words of cheer to her, but was constrained to admit that the situation afforded small ground for hope.—Cincinnati Commercial.

THE HIRED CARRIAGE.

How It Tries the Soul of Fastidious Womankind.

Suppose you want to cut a dash some lovely smiling October afternoon, and you determine to hire a victoria and go for a drive or a few calls. You choose the livery stable that advertises to furnish the most select turnouts, and with the injunction that you want everything as correct as though it were a private rig, you return home, don your very new and swell fall gown and await its coming with anxiety.

A clank of chains far down the street causes the color to make a sudden rush into your face, for there is something very aristocratic about their metal music, and surely if that detail had been omitted everything else must be correspondingly correct. Your heart sinks a little, however, when the equipage comes in sight. The coachman, alas! is not all your fastidious soul could desire, nor are the rather dejected equines indicative of blooded stock. Yet on the whole it is not so bad, and you must step in with an air hoping passers-by are envying you.

No sooner have you started than the set of that coachman's hat annoys you. It is determined to get down on his ears, likewise his coat-tails insist upon divorce and one hangs down behind while the other is wound serpentine fashion about his off leg.

A patch in the middle of his back is next noticed, and, oh, horrors, he has no gloves. Gloom and despair settle upon you, and when, with the friendliest intention in the world, he commences to point out the objects of interest as you bowl along, your cup of misery overflows and you sink back with tears of mortified vanity making sad little tracks on your brand new veil, and regretfully think of the eight dollars this palpably hired carriage has cost you.—Philadelphia Times.

BOLD ASSAULT.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 3.—The widow of the late Gen. G. K. Warren, United States engineer corps, and Miss Warren were knocked down and assaulted at midnight Tuesday night. They were going down Catherine street to their home when a man darted out from a dark court and threw Mrs. Warren down. He then knocked the daughter down. He demanded money, but Mrs. Warren's screams aroused the neighbors and the ruffian fled.

Rogers' triple teaspoons, $2—Cawood's.

STILL TALKING.

New Orleans, Nov. 3.—The arbitration committee having charge of the settlement of the differences between the strikers and the employes adjourned at 1:30 this morning, after having decided to continue the conference committee. The question of a general strike will be discussed to-day.

BURGLARS.

Bryan, Nov. 3.—Burglars effected an entrance through the rear window of Christman Bros.' flour mill last night and found the money drawer contained little change.

The same place was broken into a few months ago and the safe blown open and over $100 taken.

Just in from N. Y.—watches—Cawood's.

TIMBER FIRES.

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 3.—Over 30,000 acres of timber have been destroyed by the forest fires that have been raging on the mountains above Waterford. The flames show very little abatement, notwithstanding the rains that fell there yesterday. Very little progress is being attained by those who are making an effort to arrest the flames. It is the most destructive fire known to have occurred in the mountains for 30 years.

HOW CAN WE DO IT?

That Is What Is Agitating the Public Mind.

We All Know That Something Must Soon Be Done About It.

How to Meet a Great Crisis Among Our People.

Something must be done about it.

There is no doubt about that.

And that something must be done quickly, or it may be too late.

On behalf of our readers we have made some very important investigations in this vicinity, and we have to report that our apprehensions were correct and are substantiated by the facts. We found that there is a greater proportion of our townspeople who are the victims of some form of nervous or chronic disorders, than ever before in our history. It is a fact beyond doubt, that these diseases are increasing in our midst at an alarming rate.

Feeling that something must be done at once in the matter, we have been in consultation and communication with several of New York city's most eminent physicians—all specialists in the treatment of nervous and chronic diseases, and we give our readers their opinions and advice as to how to effect a cure in these cases.

Dr. S. M. Reynolds, one of New York city's greatest specialists, says unhesitatingly and emphatically:

"Use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in all such cases. I have never, in a practice of over twenty-five years, recommended a patent medicine. This great remedy, however, cannot be considered under that head, as it is a physician's prescription. I have used it among my patients and in my family, and I unhesitatingly pronounce it the most valuable remedy for the nerves I have ever used."

Dr. Henry Peffer, also one of New York city's great physicians, says:

"Tell your sick people to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I have used it in my practice with wonderful results. I have found it a perfect and complete cure for patients in my practice who were suffering from all forms of nervous troubles, sleeplessness, headaches, nervous weakness and debility."

The great New York physician, Emil Neumer, M. D., physician-in-chief of the New York Lodge and Association hospital, writes us:

"We are using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy at the hospital for our patients with good success."

Other physicians gave us the same advice for our people, and from the unanimity of opinion of the doctors, we are assured that this great and widely-known remedy is just what our sick and suffering citizens require to restore them to health. All the doctors say that it does cure, and all sufferers from nervousness, weakness, poor blood, debility, stomach, kidney or liver troubles should give it an immediate trial. We know that it is a purely vegetable and harmless remedy, and our druggists have it for sale at $1. Another thing of great consequence is this, that it is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, who is a renowned specialist in curing nervous and chronic affections, and he can be consulted free of charge concerning any case, personally or by letter.

Died, on the 2d inst., at the residence of her son, Henry Driver, in Adams township, Elizabeth Driver, aged 90 years. Mrs. Driver has been a resident of Lucas county for the past 54 years, having moved into this section when it was almost a wilderness. The funeral will be held at the Adams Town hall on Friday, the 4th inst., at 1:30 p. m. The friends will meet at the house about 1 p. m.

An Indecent Attack.

A lawyer said last night that the attack of the republican organs upon Mr. P. C. Hudson as not being a member of the bar in Ohio was not worthy of decent journalism, and added: "There is nothing in our statutes that says we shall elect a man who is a lawyer to a judgeship. There is nothing in the law to prevent the election as judge of a shoemaker or a bricklayer. The indecent attack is no argument against Mr. Hudson's ability, but rather shows that he is considered a formidable antagonist."

Martin Luther's Book.

Ignaz Fischer has in his possession something of a curiosity in the book line in the shape of a commonly bound old volume covered with metal bands and clasps and bearing on the title page the following inscription:

"Complete hymn book in the practice of purity, compiled by Dr. Martin Luther and published by Henrich Stoks, of Marghurg, in 1750."

It is a curious old volume and very valuable.

Disappointed Creditors.

A constable's sale of effects belonging to the bark Mariner, the shipper of which skipped out some weeks ago, leaving a number of unpaid bills, took place yesterday under attachments by M. I. Wilcox for supplies and S. Gaughan for dockage, and others for supplies. The compass and parts of the rigging and tackle were bought in by different creditors, who were about to depart with their purchases when Deputy United States Marshals Harmon and Dale stepped in and took possession under libel proceedings by George Dougherty and Frank Hiett for wages as sailors. There was a grand kick, but the process of the United States had to go.

The Name "Dorr" Means Something.

"I have no sympathy with the attempt to change the name of Dorr street," said Wm. H. Maher, "and if I were in the council I would vote against it. The present name means something. It is, because of tri-state fair visitors, one of the best known streets in the city. It commemorates a man who was for many years the chief officer of the city, and as I remember Mayor Dorr he was quite as worthy of this as were his cotemporaries, whose names were just as 'common and abilities no greater.' Changing Allen street to Canton avenue has not changed the character of that thoroughfare. To change Dorr to Fairview is as absurd as to see a plain, practical man drop his ordinary clothes so that he may ape a dude. The name is a part of the city's history and ought to remain."

Trinity Company's Officers.

The election of officers of the Knights of Temperance, Trinity company, No. 9, was held at their armory last night and resulted in the election of the following officers for the coming year:

Captain—Meyer Geelerd.
Lieut. B. F. Bliss.
Ensign—M. DeVille.
Acting Ensign—Ed J. Kohler.
Secretary—Chas. Stanley.
Assistant Secretary—Geo. Buckwell.
Treasurer—John Tonkin.
Assistant Treasurer—D. Jones.
Senior Sentinel—W. Cooper.
Junior Sentinel—Ned Goodnow.
Senior Color Guard—L. White.
Junior Color Guard—Tyler Green.

The following drill officers were elected: Captain, Meyer Geelerd; first lieutenant, B. F. Bliss; second lieutenant, Chas. Stanley.

Refuse To Be Milked.

A meeting was held at the old republican headquarters last evening in response to a pitiful wailing call which stated that the affair was of the greatest importance. There is a peck of trouble on board the old ship. Money is tight and she has got to have help or sink. Many republicans received the letters only to tear them up and forget all about the matter. While there is so much internal scrapping the uninterested republicans don't seem to care about putting their hands in their pockets to further such proceedings, consequently the meeting fizzled out as other movements have heretofore. If Jim would only open his barrel and give the boys a grab everything would be all right, but Jim is dead onto them.

The republican Damon don't care a d— for Pythias.

Married at St. Mary's Church.

This morning at 8 o'clock the nuptials of Josephine Jacobi and Dolphus J. Marleau were celebrated at St. Mary's church in the presence of many of their numerous friends.

Precisely at the stroke of 8 the bridal party proceeded up the center aisle, Mr. Emil Lalonde acting as best man and Miss Gertrude Jacobi, of Bush street, as bridesmaid.

The bride looked charming in a becoming gown of white silk entraine with pearl passementerie trimmings, carrying bridal roses. The bridesmaid looked pretty in a gown of pink silk, black velvet and cut seed jet, and carried pink roses. The bride is a popular young lady, and Mr. Marbeau is an enterprising business man of West Toledo. He is a graduate of the Toledo Hight school and the Toledo Business college and was formerly employed by Stollberg & Clapp. The happy couple went immediately to their new home in West Toledo, where they will hold a reception to-night. They were the recipients of numerous handsome and costly presents. Congratulations.

CONSUME THE SMOKE.

Meeting of the Manufacturers Called to Consider the Question.

A meeting of the manufacturers of the city has been called at the office of the Woolson Spice company for next Tuesday evening.

The object of the meeting is to discuss means and ways of complying with the city ordinance relative to the consumption of smoke.

THE LAKE SHORE RESTRAINED

This morning Judge Lemmon granted a temporary injunction restraining the Lake Shore from repairing or improving the old bridges over the Lake Shore track at Broadway and Field avenue.

The city wants a larger, stronger and much better structure than that proposed to be constructed.

DELAYED REGISTRATIONS.

The Vote for Second Ward Councilman.

The board of elections will hold special sessions on Friday and Saturday at 10 o'clock a. m., to issue orders for registration to persons who have been unable to register on the regular days. The board will also meet on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, for the same purpose.

The election of a councilman in the Second ward has been provided for by a decision of the board to print at the bottom of the regular tickets for that ward the words, "For councilman, Second ward, to fill vacancy," with the usual lines to show where to mark.

THE MACHINISTS.

They Show Their Good Will to the Homestead Men.

The local lodge of the international association of the machinists met last night, initiated two candidates, received three applications for membership, and heard statements from two visitors representing the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers, asking assistance for the Homestead lockedout laborers. The sum of $10 was donated.

The Carpenters union met last night and heard a report of progress in the matter of the organization of a new union in East Toledo. The union is trying to get P. J. Maguire, secretary of the International Brotherhood, to speak on the evening of the 23d, the night after the open meeting of the Central Labor union, at which he will deliver an address.

The Central Labor union will meet this evening. The committee on open meeting will also hold a session to perfect arrangements for the meeting in Memorial hall, on the 22d, at which there will be music and recitations, as well as good speaking on labor questions.

A Proposed Test With the Election Returns.

H. J. Curl, of the Long Distance Telephone company, applied to the board of elections this morning for permission to obtain the vote in Toledo as it comes in for transmission to New York, and in return promises to display the vote in New York as it comes over the direct line. He said: "We want to see how quickly we can get the Toledo returns to New York and distributed to the rest of the country. All we desire is the same privilege accorded the newspapers."

To a Bee representative Mr. Curl said: "I am here to see about the starting of the line here, which will be in a few days. Then we will give an opportunity to the press and public to inspect it, as we did in Chicago. With me is Mr. Trowbridge, manager at Detroit, who will act in conjunction with Mr. Cherry, of the local company here."

THE LATE J. D. LELAND.

A Brief Sketch of His Business Career.

The Remains Will Reach Here Saturday and the Funeral Will Take Place Sunday Afternoon.

The remains of the late John D. Leland will reach Toledo Saturday and the funeral will take place from his late residence, 448 Twelfth street, Sunday afternoonat 2 o'clock.

Mr. McIntire, of Leland, Smith & Co., went to El Paso and will return with the remains.

J. D. Leland was born in Erie county 42 years ago. At the age of about 10 years he was left an orphan, both parents dying. His grandfather then took him and brought him up. He came to Toledo about 1872, and for a number of years was claim clerk in the general offices of the Wabash railway. In 1875 he was married to Kate Russell, daughter of J. B. Russell, of East Toledo, and sister to Chas. E. Russell. About this time he took position as bookkeeper for Isherwood & Co., manufacturers of tobacco, and shortly after the firm of W. S. Isherwood & Sons, wholesale tobacconists, Monroe street, was started, Mr. Leland became manager, and so continued until February, 1881, when he organized the firm of Leland, Smith & Co., composed of J. D. Leland, C. L. Smith, Geo. Stoeckley and Sam Dixon. At the time of Mr. Stoeckley's death, about a year ago, the business was changed from a partnership to a stock company, Mr. Leland being president up to the time of his death. He leaves two sons, Harry and John. Their loss is irreparable—losing mother and father both within one short year. They have the sympathy of all.

Mr. Leland had a well-earned reputation for integrity of purpose and honesty in dealing with his fellow-men, which contributed very largely to the great success of Leland, Smith & Co. For years he has been fighting his dread disease, hoping against hope.

His death was a doubly sad one, occurring at it did so far from home and friends. Toledo loses an honorable citizen, a tried gentleman and a kind and loving father.

THE MARKETS TO-DAY.

The receipts of wheat today at Minneapolis and Duluth are 546,732 bu, and at five other western points 332,367 bu; total, 1,079,099 bu. On the corresponding Thursday in 1891 the receipts at same points were for two days and are not comparable.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 466,701 bu and flour to an aggregate of 900,000 bu.

English markets as reported herein give a better tone and demand for wheat, and lower price for corn.

The Price of Wheat.

Wheat is as low as it has been for about forty years. Whether it is cheap depends upon the conditions which confront it. Let us briefly look at the field. English stocks are much in excess of average, and in excess of 1891, but that excess only corresponds to about the reduction of their 1892 crop of wheat, and England is buying of us freely at our low prices. Stocks in France and other continental states are much reduced. October 25 we printed a table from the Liverpool Corn Trade News, showing a decrease in continental states and England of 20 millions of wheat since October, 1891. These countries are now dependent somewhat upon the sales of home grown wheat and their stocks. As the winter approaches will not farmers' sales everywhere greatly decrease? The consumption of wheat at extremely low prices is always augmented. The world's crops by all the statisticians is reckoned as below average consumption. Some writers are counting upon Australia to equalize the very small crop of India. Australia has broken the promise to the hops for ten years. When they raise a bumper crop we will surely note it.

Against all of above it is to be said that American farmers have sold their surplus with surprising unanimity and extent. A great deal of it is removed from the "invisible" into the "visible," but there is not a bushel more wheat by that process. The winter is at hand when we shall have little else to do, perhaps, but to gaze on the stocks and the follies, or necessities of the farmers in selling so rapidly.

Dealers in wheat can take these points into consideration and they may reason that prices will further decline, but we are hoping against it.

The wheat markets on this side of the Atlantic opened weak this morning, and the December future at Chicago declined 3-8c. Later, under decreased receipts, increased seaboard clearings and rumored large purchases in New York for export, the market became firmer and more than recovered the loss.

Corn also declined after the opening, on reports of dryer weather west, but when the wheat market turned corn advanced with it.

Foreign markets close without significance.

In New York October wheat closed at 74 1-2c, a gain of 3-4c; December at 76c, a gain of 5-8c; May at 83 1-8c, a gain of 1-2c. October corn at 49 1-2c, a loss of 1-4c; December at 51 1-4c, a loss of 1-4c; May at 51 3-4c, unchanged.

In Chicago October wheat closed at 70 1-2c; December at 71 7-8c; May at 77 7-8c, a gain on each of 1-4c. November corn closed at 41 5-8c; December at 41 5-8c; May at 45 7-8c, a gain on November and May of 1-8c. November oats at 30c, a loss of 1-8c.

In Toledo the trading in wheat continues very light and without any new features of interest except that our prices are better and a part of yesterday's loss is regained. At close December showed a gain of 5-8c and May of 3-4c. December sold at opening at 71 3-4c and closed at 72 1-4c bid; May sold at 77 3-4c and closed at 78 3-8c bid.

Cash wheat has not been in large request, and has not advanced in the ratio of futures. No. 2 soft sold at 70c to 70 1-4c and at close 70 1-2c was the market, a gain of 1-4c; No. 3 soft sold at 62c, but at close 62 1-2c was the market, a gain of 1-2c; No. 4 at 56 1-2c L. S. Rejected No. 1 at 58 to 59c, No. 2 50 to 52 1-2c. Mixed No. 2 at 67 1-2c, No. 3 at 60c. Hard No. 2 at 66c, No. 3 at 60 1-2c, No. 2 white at 67 1-2c, No. 3 at 62 1-2c.

Rye—No. 3 at 48 1-2c, rejected at 40c.

Cloverseed—September was less active but firm and higher. Prime medium for cash at $7.00 and held higher. November after change $7.20 was bid. January sold at $7.20, No. 2 at $6.80 to $6.90, alsike at $7.25.

How fast Boots and Shoes are going off at our place. Of course they go on before they go off. Our sales are now very large. Not surprising to us, for our patrons here have found out that our footwear is made for the feet, to fit the feet. Also that it is well made, durable, stylish and low-priced. Furthermore, that they get more comfort in it than in any other footgear. Is it any wonder our sales are large?

THE BLADE ON ASHLEY.

"Corrupt and shameless conduct in employing his official position to secure the appointment of a man to an important territorial office for the avowed and exclusive purpose of feathering his own nest with ill-gotten and illegal gains."—Blade, Sept. 18, 1862.

THE BEE'S ELECTION RETURNS

The Bee, always ready to cater to the wants of the people, has perfected arrangements to display the election returns next Tuesday evening, with the aid of a stereopticon, in front of the office. The news will be received in the building over the Bee's wires, and the information given immediately.

Every Toledoan is interested in the election, and recognizing this fact, all possible diligence will be used to accommodate and give reliable returns.

Ashley's motto for the future: "The old flag and an appropriation for Frankfort harbor."

Vote for Byron Ritchie without fail. He is the man for this district at the present juncture.

Senator Hill is back in New York state, and will speak each evening during the rest of the campaign.

Thirty-eight of New York's bank presidents will vote for Cleveland, as against twenty-nine for Harrison.

This revenue district invested $32,515.60 in beer stamps during October. Here's a topic for the prohibition speakers.

The local democratic executive committee has conducted a clean canvass, and their work will be approved at the polls.

But few days are left for work. Every democrat should lend aid to the campaign committee and assist in achieving victory.

An opportunity will yet be given by the board of elections to those who can present a reasonable excuse for failing to register.

Our republican friends can drown their sorrow next week in a rather pleasant way. Quail shooting begins two days after election.

The campaign paraphernalia dealer has not made enough money to buy an overcoat this year, if half the states have been as quiet as Ohio.

Think of a judge advocate general on the staff of two republican governors in Massachusetts, declaring for Cleveland. Truly the leaven is working.

Could better nominees be chosen to fill the county offices than Jacob Kohn, L. C. Gibbs, W. G. Root, and Joseph Gates? Not in a lifetime. Vote for all of them.

Oregon's democratic electors have been withdrawn, and the people's party ticket will be supported, in the hope of getting the state away from the republicans.

Second ward voters will only be consulting their own interests by electing the democratic nominee for the council, Mr. J H. Wylie. He has the Jeffersonian qualities.

Mr. Cleveland has been booked for a speech in New Jersey on Saturday night. Republicans are endeavoring to buy up the state, but democratic voters are on the alert.

Railroaders will pass their opinion on the Ashley Ann Arbor rules next Tuesday, in a way that will leave no opportunity for conjecture as to their thoughts on the subject.

And ex-Solicitor Bluford Wilson, too, is in line for Cleveland! Col. Wilson was a distinguished member of President Grant's administration. Getting to be quite unanimous.

Fifteen different democratic meetings were held in Chicago last night, addressed by Judge Altgeld, the nominee for governor, Gen. John C. Black, and others. Nothing small about Chicago, even in politics.

Examine the relative work of Toledo's congressmen on appropriations for the harbor, and then consider if Ashley, who secured $20,000 in ten years, is the proper person to be again entrusted with the district's interests. The figures are at the head of this column, placed there especially for inspection.

The soldiers of Lucas county owe nothing to the republican party managers. In nine cases out of ten they have been dumped for the ward worker when positions were being distributed.

Ohio is surely republican, the people are told by the organs. Such being the case, why the necessity for 400 office-holders coming all the way from Washington to vote in a sure state? A little inconsistent.

At the rate the Ohio canal commission is claiming property in all parts of the state, it will soon be rather difficult for the average man to tell whether he or the Buckeye commission owns the realty within its borders.

Charley Foster is confident of Harrison's re-election; Wanamaker, ditto; Tracy, ditto; Elkins, ditto. In fact, all of the members of the present cabinet are quite sure their chief will be elected. It is possible these gentlemen do not view the situation with unbiased goggles.

Because democratic newspapers advise the people not to bet is not a sign of any disbelief on their part that their candidates will not win. The admonition is in the nature of good morals, simply that and nothing more. Of course, if betting must go on, place your money on Grover Cleveland; he's the winner.

Jacobson should be overwhelmingly defeated in the Second ward. Mr. Jacobson wants State street paved. His junk shop is located on that street, and Mr. Jacobson desires it improved. Do the taxpayers of the Second ward want that street paved at the public expense for Mr. Jacobson's benefit? If so, vote for Mr. Jacobson; if not, vote for Mr. Wylie.

Lucas, Wood and Fulton counties were calculated on as reliable counties by the republicans in the legislature last winter when gerrymandering was going on. Next Tuesday will develop the fact that the chickens were counted before they were hatched. The Ninth will be a democratic district, and Byron Ritchie will go to congress from the same. Vote for Ritchie.

Judge Gresham's letter announcing his intention to vote for Cleveland is a telling arraignment of the republican party's action on the tariff question. The legislation has been in the interest of the favored classes and opposed to the best interests of the great body of the people. On the subject of tariff reform, Judge Gresham is in hearty accord with the democracy.

It would be in much better form if Carnegie and Frick would distribute the contributions made to the republican campaign fund among their poverty stricken workmen at Homestead and other Pennsylvania points. The money has been sweated out of their employes. But then the vast sums subscribed are to assist in maintaining the beneficent policy of protection, which has done so great and so many good things for the country.

Here's a note accompanying the declaration of Past Commander Harrison Clark, of the New York department of the Grand Army, to vote for Cleveland, which is pretty good reading:

"The number of union veterans who will vote for Cleveland and Stevenson will surprise the republican managers who claim to control the Grand Army vote. In almost every town in New York state there will be three or four or five or six veterans who voted the republican ticket in 1880 and previously who will now vote the democratic ticket. The aggregate of such votes in the state will be in the thousands."

Gen. Sam Cary, of Ohio, now helping out in Michigan after stumping in Illinois, gives it as his opinion that Judge Altgeld will be chosen governor of Illinois, and the Cleveland electors will have majorities ranging between ten and fifteen thousand. Gen. Cary says there are two surprises in store for next Wednesday. "The democratic party will be surprised at the magnitude of its victory, and the republican party at its overhelming defeat." Joyful way to put it, to say the least.

DEMOCRATS, LOOK HERE.

The heavy registration throughout the city means a democratic gain. The republicans, thoroughly equipped, disciplined and organized, have always had their full vote registered, so that any increase over the natural gain can be credited to the democratic side.

Fully 12 per cent. of the 15 per cent. gain in the increased vote registered is democratic.

This increase, if voted on Tuesday next, will make Lucas county democratic. Of the 2,000 extra votes registered this year over two years ago, the democrats can confidently claim at least 1,400.

With a change of 800 votes, or even less, Lucas county would be democratic.

There is no reason why the full vote should not be polled next Tuesday. If it is, not only will Mr. Ashley not be elected, but he will scarcely know he is in the race.

Not only that, but the entire democratic ticket will be elected.

The one imperative duty that devolves on all democrats is this—

THE VOTE MUST BE GOTTEN OUT.

To do this it will be necessary to place the democratic executive committee in a position to do it by responding at once to the appeal for men or money, or both.

Send in your name, therefore, as a volunteer worker or $2 to employ a substitute at the polls.

Democrats, victory is within your grasp. Do not miss this opportunity of placing Lucas county in the democratic ranks.

BRIBERY.

The Ashley Management at the Old Game.

Something Is Going to Drop Sure as You're Born—Names To Be Published.

The democratic executive committee has the names of 11 democrats of the First, Third and Seventh wards, who were, it is alleged, purchased by employes of Ashley to stay away from registering.

The names of these people will be published, as will also the names of others.

A prominent lawyer says this attempt to bribe voters is a penitentiary offense, and at a meeting of the democratic executive committee held this morning the names of the bribers—four in number—were placed in the hands of one of the ablest attorneys in the state.

The committee has decided that Mr. Ashley cannot and must not buy or bribe his way into congress.

GOAT—"IF THAT DON'T SETTLE IT I'LL EAT IT."

LOOK OUT FOR HIM.

Jim Ashley Was Getting Ready to Shake Republicans

If They Did Not Give Him the Nomination.

He Was the High Monkey Monk in a Party To Be Called the National Reformers—How It Lived and Died.

Jim Ashley is a sly fox. Look out, republicans, or he will turn and bite you. He loves you now; in fact he loves everybody now. But, do you know, that along in September he was in a scheme to organize a third party if the republicans did not nominate him?

The third party in which he was the leader, was to be known as the National Reform club. The idea was evolved in the mammoth head of Mr. Ashley, and it was going to revolutionize things in the matter of electing a president. The idea was to devise a plan to do away with presidential electors and count the actual popular vote of the entire country in a bunch.

It was argued that had this been done in the Tilden-Hayes campaign that Tilden would have been president, also that it would have elected Grover Cleveland four years ago.

Why Mr. Ashley would have entered into any arrangement to assist in furthering the interests of the wicked democrats it is difficult to imagine. He is such a good republican.

Be all this as it may, Mr. Ashley met with those interested on several occasions—they were both democrats and republicans—jollied them up, and pretended to be devout. He was feathering his nest and getting ready to flop and take the nomination from a third party if the republicans did not put him up.

Mr. Ashley boomed the third party neatly and quietly. He wanted it just strong enough to boost him up if the republicans did not do so, and not strong enough to make any demonstration before the convention that might put the republicans on to his duplicity.

He told the third reform partyites that the organization would not stop in Toledo. It would spread throughout the state and union rapidly. Quite a number of meetings were held at private houses and at Hotel Union, but as soon as Ashley received the republican nomination he let it drop like a hot pancake and will never take it up again until he has some other axe to grind for Jim Ashley.

Look out for him, republicans!

WITH INTENT TO KILL.

The Charge Brought Against Fournier.

The Case Came Up in Police Court This Morning — Dr. Scheble Testifies—Examination Continued.

This morning the turnkey peered through the bars of Joe Fournier's cell and said, "Fix yourself up, Joe, and come upstairs in court."

Accordingly Mr. Fournier tidied himself up a little and stepped forth. He had been freshly shaven and looked none the worse for his confinement in a dingy, dirty cell.

He proceeded to the court room and took a seat by the side of his attorney, L. G. Richardson.

The papers in the case, which Prosecutor Wheeler held in his hands, caused Joe's friends to feel pretty good, for they gave the charge as shooting with intent to kill. It sounded a good deal better than murder.

Dr. Scheble was placed on the stand and told to testify as to Goggins' condition.

"He is getting along nicely," said the doctor. "His chances for recovery are very good. Conditions may arise, however, that may change matters entirely. We are never safe until we are out of the woods."

"Would you say he is out of danger?" questioned Judge Sala.

"I think so; but as I said, conditions may arise some day in the future that would kill him."

"Do you say those days of danger are past?"

"No."

"Trouble may arise from the wound in the abdomen?"

"Yes, it may. Nature generally covers the bullet with a growth and the wound heals up, though."

"Is he experiencing any trouble from the wound in the neck?"

"No; it is a little stiff and lame, that's all."

Attorney Richardson then asked "Now, doctor, summing it up, what do you say as to the probabilities in the case?"

"He will probably recover."

Judge Sala—"Could you tell better Saturday?"

"Yes."

"Then we will continue this examination until then. In the meantime Mr. Fournier will be confined in the county jail. He will have better quarters there. He is a sick man, and the police station cells are not a fit place for him."

Mr. Richardson arose and said: "Your Honor, I would like to make an application for bail."

"The application is refused," said the judge.

After court adjourned Fournier and his attorney held a short consultation, and it was decided not to go to the jail. Mr. Richardson had something on his mind regarding bail, and went out to look it up.

LOWER SUMMIT STREET PARK

How Governor Ashley Is Helping the Plan Along.

To the Editor: A recent letter in the Commercial from Gov. Ashley, with reference to the Riverview park question ought not to pass unanswered.

About a year ago, whilst the writer was on his way to the court house, one morning, he met Gov. Ashley on Superior street, near the corner of Adams. The governor stopped him and said he was glad that the park question was to be submitted to the vote of the citizens of Toledo; that he was heartily in accord with the measure and would do what he could to carry it to a successful issue. He hoped if it carried, that the park board would include in its park system a river front park between Ash street and the old Manhattan mills. The writer thinks he said that he thought seriously of improving and making the Hough place his future home, and if the park board wanted the river property, neither he nor his people would oppose it, and the city could have it (except a double track right of way for his railroad), at what it cost with interest at 6 per cent.

The conditions may have changed somewhat in the past year, but the park board do not understand that there is any real difference between Gov. Ashley, the Ann Arbor railroad and the park board, except the price to be paid for the property in question. The board does not feel that the city should pay the price asked for the land, and hence are seeking to condemn it, allowing a jury to fix the compensation.

The suit begun by the Ann Arbor railroad to enjoin the city from appropriating the property, if successful, would compel the board to either pay the price asked for the property, abandon the river park project altogether, or stop where we are and the board do the best it can with what property it has already acquired.

The system of parks adopted by the board embraces an uninterrupted river view and frontage of nearly three-fifths of a mile, extending from Ash street to the old Manhattan mills, with sufficient area to easily accommodate upwards of 100,000 people. To sever it as proposed to be done by the pending suit against the city, will be practically to destroy it.

A REPUBLICAN'S TRIBUTE

To the Democratic Nominee for Circuit Judge.

I am not so conceited as to suppose that your readers have any special interest in my vote for circuit judge, but I am glad to have opportunity to testify to the high reputation in which Judge Scribner is held among us. And as far as I can I propose to keep him where he is.

It is probably necessary that even judges should be nominated and elected by political parties, but it is not necessary nor in my opinion is it wise, that the three judges on one bench should all be of the one party. It would be shameful to elect a man to that high office simply because of his political sympathies. It would be monstrous to refuse to re-elect a good man because he did not happen to vote our ticket.

Judge Scribner has honored the bench upon which he has sat these past years. No breath of suspicion has ever rested upon his motives his decisions, or his good name. He has been a wise lawyer, in construing; a just and impartial judge in deciding. He has been kindly courteous to everyone he has met, and to refuse him a re-election would be ingratitude to him, injustice to ourselves.

I think I represent a large share of the republicans in Lucas county in saying that Judge Scribner should be kept where he is just as long as he has strength to serve the people.

May I not also add that the same argument should be applied by democrats in the election of Judge Pugsley? His re-election ought not to be one moment in doubt, even though his opponent was a man of even greater ability than he is. I am casting no stones at him. But Judge Pugsley has proven himself both able and honest. WM. H. MAHER.

DEMOCRATS, ATTENTION.

To the Democrats of Toledo and Lucas County:

The heavy registration points to a decisive democratic victory in this county and district next Tuesday.

It is, however, an imperative necessity that the democratic executive committee be placed in position to reap the harvest now ripe.

We must get out the vote on election day, and to do this, it will be necessary that every democrat take a personal interest in the battle of the ballots next Tuesday.

We have no Carnegies, or Ashley's barrel, nor wealthy protected barons to aid us financially and we must depend solely and wholly on the zeal and ardor of the people.

We cannot expect many to devote their services to the cause next Tuesday, but there is something that all can do.

There is no democrat in Toledo who cannot donate $2 to the cause.

We desire two things: First—Volunteers to help get out the vote in every precinct on Tuesday next. Second—Those who cannot give us their personal services can give $2 so that we can employ men in their places.

We need financial help and if we would win, must have it promptly.

Send your name for your $2, therefore, to the treasurer, Mr. Jacob Mandler, 430 Superior street, or to M. M. Eppstein, vice chairman of the democratic executive committee, at democratic headquarters, Summit street.

D. H. COMMAGER, Chairman.
C. W. MURPHY, Secretary.

Argument and Fact Differ.

The champion of the robber tariff says on the stump that it was made for the benefit of laboring men. And yet the greatest beneficiary of the robber tariff (Carnegie) is the greatest foe of organized labor in the United States and is the only man who has ever murdered laboring men, with the shotted guns of the Pinkertons. Let us ask the organs of monopoly to name one single labor organization in the United States that has ever indorsed the McKinley bill. Not one can be named. Every labor organization is against the McKinley bill, and every monopolist and trust shark is in favor of it. This ought to settle the question, how the labor vote should be cast.—Canton News-Democrat.

Republican Argument.

Wickham was explaining to a group of his fellow farmers this morning how beautifully the war tariff works for the farmer's special benefit. "If you want to sell your farm," said the noted agriculturist, "you ask $75 an acre for it, and if you don't get it you don't sell. But if you want to buy a farm the sheriff, through the beneficent operation of the war tariff, is enabled to sell one to you for $30 an acre. Thus it raises the price if you want to sell and knocks the bottom out if you want to buy." Farmer Wickham's explanation didn't seem to please the knot of farmers and it's two to one they'll all vote for Grover next Tuesday.—Bucyrus Forum.

And there are a good many more silent old republicans in that city who believe with him and will follow his example.—Sandusky Journal.

WOODSTOCK, Ulster Co., April 25, 1892.
DR. DAVID KENNEDY:

Dear Sir—Naturally energetic I found it hard to be the victim of fell disease. I was terribly troubled with my stomach, my food would break up sour after IT eating—would wake up every night with a burning, sour distressed feeling there, that made my life almost unbearable. I doctored with physicians and took many so-called cures but none helped me; seeing in the newspapers of the wonderful cures performed by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., I determined to try it; after using it a little while relief came and before I had finished the third bottle I was entirely cured. Just think of it stranger, from a sick man—ENTIRELY CURED. ALWAYS Before using Favorite Remedy I was constantly constipated and have not been troubled that way since. But the greatest blessing was the cure it performed for my wife, who previous to taking it was troubled with sickness common to all women She was so ill that she could hardly drag herself about the house; she too tried all kinds of so-called positive cures but with no avail until she began using Favorite Remedy, and that was the medicine we had been praying for. After using it but a short while she began to pick up in health and strength and is a well woman to-day. CURES I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy she would have been in her grave to-day. It's the greatest medicine on earth. It's worth its weight in gold.

Yours truly, JAMES W. SHULTIS.

Read this over again ye sceptics and incredulous ones! Ought you not to use this valuable medicine and enjoy health and happiness?

Woman's Advancement Considered

At the Monthly Meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association —School Suffrage Bill —Notes.

The monthly meeting of the Toledo Woman's Suffrage association, held Wednesday afternoon in room 9, Fort Industry block, was well attended and the deliberations were most interesting.

President Rosa L. Segur presided, and Mrs. Cole acted as secretary.

After disposing of routine business, the report of the police matron committee was made by Mrs. E. S. Fray, who reported that the matron was doing good work, and had a great deal to do. There have been some pieces of furniture added to her room, which make it pleasant and comfortable.

The committee appointed for November are Mrs. Jenning and Mrs. Frank.

In the absence of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. M. B. Eck read the home report of the advancement and progress of women in America.

Mrs. Fray gave a very interesting foreign report, in which she stated that the greatest gain to woman's cause is the passage of the bill granting parliamentary suffrage in New Zealand. She spoke of the deplorable state of affairs in France, where notwithstanding that women are able financiers and do nearly all of the commercial business, they have no voice or vote in the selection of the president, by whom commercial laws are dictated.

In the professions they are in even more cruel subjection. A woman doctor cannot be a witness to a birth or death, sign a certificate of identity, or witness a will, as is often required by them.

The president gave a synopsis of the work of the nineteenth district convention, recently held at Akron and the school suffrage bill was next considered, every lady present participating in the discussion.

The general opinion was that the proper way to obtain the passage of the bill is to diffuse suffrage sentiment through the southern part of the state where there are few societies and the women are in complete ignorance of the work that is to be done, or the benefits to be derived.

The ladies spoke in highest terms of the good effect and educating influence of the series of lectures to be given this winter under the auspices of the Political Equality club and the Toledo press was complimented for the generous space and fair reports given of women's meetings.

The invitation of Mrs. Claude Q. Murphy, president of the Political Equality club, to the society, to attend the first birthday anniversary of the club, Saturday afternoon, at her home on Tenth street, was accepted with thanks.

The matter of appointing a committee to act with the district vice president in the work of organization, and also the matter of arranging for a district convention to be held in Toledo during the winter, was discussed, and laid over until the December meeting.

After a general discussion on the progress of suffrage work, the meeting adjourned to meet Wednesday afternoon, December 7.

The Union of Unions is meeting with Henrietta L. Monroe union in the Washington Street Congregational church this afternoon.

The New Century club will meet Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Tillinghast, 121 Eleventh street. The paper will be read by Mrs. Elizabeth R. Collins.

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock a reception will be held in the parlors of Mrs. E. Quigley, Tenth street, in honor of the first anniversary of the Political Equality club. All members and friends of the club are invited to be present.

The ladies of Trinity Flower mission will serve a hot lunch in the church parlors on Saturday next from 12 to 2 o'clock.

Monday evening, November 7, the Emerson class will be entertained by Mrs. Harmon at her residence on Batavia street. The program is as follows: Roll call, with quotations from current literary events; report of secretary; music; essay, "Method of Nature," Part 2: Class exercise, each giving some obscurity of text or thought for interpretation; poems, Nature 1, Nature 2, Mrs. Geller.

The Theosophical club will meet with Mrs. John Wheeler this evening.

The Humane society holds the November meeting next Tuesday night.

FIFTY CIGARETTES.

That Many Daily Killed a Fiend—Haemoptysis.

"The cigarette has its friends as well as enemies," said Dr. McNamara, assistant house physician at the Great Northern hotel; "but from this time on I will stand arrayed as one of its strongest opponents. I have just come from the room of one of the most horrible deaths I ever saw; and yet the case presented remarkable medical features.

"The case was that of a young man of a well-known south-side family, who undoubtedly fell a victim to the cigarette. 'Haemoptysis' is the cause of the death returned on the certificate, yet it was not a real bleeding of the lungs, but rather a bleeding of the lips which caused his death. I was called in on the case two weeks ago, and since that time have labored incessantly to prevent death, but outraged nature could not be appeased. I found the young man suffering from a slight hemorrhage of the upper lip. A small sore had formed there, on the spot where the cigarette was held between the lips. Drop by drop the blood was slowly dripping from the lip. I first attempted bandages, but they were useless. I next cauterized the sore, but that seemed to aggravate it, and the hemorrhage became more violent.

"Day after day his life-blood flowed away. I called in brother physicians, and every resource known to medical science was used to stop the dreadful extravasation, but without effect. The patient soon died, reduced almost to a skeleton. The young man was in the habit of smoking from forty to fifty cigarettes a day. An examination of his blood revealed the fact that the red corpuscles had been reduced 47 per cent., the fluid thus losing its power of coagulation. Inhalation of cigarettes caused this physiological change, and nothing else."

R. HEBER NEWTON.

He Wants a Year's Rest Before Going to Work.

New York, Nov. 3.—Rev. R. Heber Newton, the well known clergyman and pastor of All Souls' Episcopal church, has written a letter to his congregation in which he says that his condition is such that he will not be able to resume active work for at least a year.

He refers to the charge of heresy against him and says he would have asked for temporary release before had it not been for them. The commission considering the charges, however, makes no report, although he has requested them to do so and he therefore upon the advice of his physician requests leave of absence.

RICK'S REQUEST

For a Two Per Cent. Divvy—It May Cause Trouble Yet.

The modest (?) request sent by F. W. Richenbaugh, by request of the Lucas county republican committee, to employes in the Toledo postoffice, for 2 per cent. of the several salaries leads to the presumption that other members of the committee were appointed to similarly bleed other federal officers, some of whom have received different notes, but of similar character. They were sent to democrats as well as republicans.

The federal employes are considered as earning their salaries. If they do not, they should be cut down. If they do it is the rankest robbery to thus require them to yield up contributions for party purposes, no matter to what political party they may belong. That they are forced contributions nobody for one moment doubts.

A gentleman of Mr. Richenbaugh's character would not be guilty of such an impertenance without prompting and promise of aid in enforcing the demand from some official in the department who could and would wield an influence on the victims. To determine who such promptor, aider and abettor is the inquirer has not far to seek.

On the county committee with Mr. Richenbaugh is J. C. Rike, superintendent of mails, who is the instrument through which these contributions are to be enforced. He is in a position to see that all pay what is demanded, or be marked for future complaint on some ground for official decapitation.

As Mr. Rickenbaugh in his note acknowledges he writes by request of the committee, and as Mr. Rike is a member of that committee, the latter is individually responsible for the raid on his subordinates and fellow officials in the postoffice. In this way the superintendent of mails has rendered himself liable under the section of the civil service law which forbids any official, either directly or indirectly, attempting to levy a political assessment. Therefore, those who are asked to contribute have the whip hand of Mr. Rike, for should he attempt to make any trouble with them in their positions they can have him prosecuted and punished for violation of a plain statute of these United States, through his personal connection with the committee from which the demand for contributions emanated,

For John C.
Rike, even he,
Wasn't so smart as he thought he'd be.

SCIENTIFIC SQUIBS.

What Genius and Science Are Doing for the World's Progress.

An ingenious Indianian has invented a plow in which an auger or screw mold board is operated by means of a drive wheel in the rear.

An automatic match ignitor is a recent novelty. You pull a lever, a match travels along the roughened surface and is then thrust out of an opening already ignited.

A Passaic inventor has devised a novel projectile, which is rifled to correspond to the bore of the gun. The grooves are provided with bearing pieces to diminish friction.

A Boston inventor has invented a strainer for mixed drinks, consisting of a circular plate, around the circumference of which is a spiral spring. The coil forms the strainer, which is removable at will.

Electrical Rain Drops

Rain, which, on touching the ground, crackles and emits electric sparks, is a very uncommon but not unknown phenomenon. An instance of the kind was recently reported from Cordova, in Spain, by an electrical engineer, who witnessed the occurrence. The weather had been warm and undisturbed by wind, and soon after dark the sky became overcast with clouds. At about 8 o'clock there came a flash of lightning, followed by great drops of electrical rain, each one of which on touching the ground, walls or trees, gave a faint crack and emitted a spark of light. The phenomenon continued for several seconds, and apparently ceased as soon as the atmosphere was saturated with moisture.—Chambers' Journal.

Beautiful Lapis Lazulis.

The first precious stone to be produced artificially was the lapis lazuli, the sapphire of the ancients. When pulverized this stone furnishes the surpassingly beautiful ultra-marine color with which the artists of the middle ages delighted to paint the mantle or gown of the Virgin Mary, although they must have had to pay the most extravagant price for the pigment. Some fifty years ago a German chemist discovered how this most beautiful of colors could be artificially produced by heating argillaceous earth with soda, sulphur and carbon, and now hundreds of thousands of pounds are produced in Europe annually.—Great Divide.

Use of Boiling Tar.

It is found that masonry may be rendered impervious to water, especially in positions exposed to direct contact to that element, by the application of coal tar. The latter is employed in a boiling state, in one or more layers, or it may be made to flame up before being used, the first being suitable for surfaces exposed to the air, while the second is appropriate in the case of parts intended to be covered up. This method of treating foundations is declared to be of special utility in all public buildings, particularly for the preservation of works of art, preventing, as it does, exudations of water charged with lime salts from the mortar.

Light and Sound.

One of the most wonderful discoveries in science that has been made within a year or two is the discovery that a beam of light produces sound. A beam of sunlight is thrown through a lens on a glass vessel that contains lampblack, colored silk or worsted or other substances. A disk having slits or openings cut in it is made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light so as to cut it up, thus making alternate flashes of light and shadow. On putting the ear to the glass vessel strange sounds are heard so long as the flashing beam is falling on the vessel. Recently a more wonderful discovery has been made: A beam of sunlight is caused to pass through a prism, so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum, or rainbow. The disk is turned, and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it. Place the ear to the vessel containing the silk, wool or other material. As the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given by different parts of the spectrum, and there will be silence in other parts. For instance, if the vessel contains red worsted and the green light flashes upon it, loud sounds will be given. Only feeble sounds will be heard if the red and blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel, and other colors make no sound at all. Green silk gives sound best in a red light. Every kind of material gives more or less sound in some colors and utters no sound in others.—New York Ledger.

McVeagh's Criticism of Judas.

Wayne MacVeagh's criticism of Pat Egan is not, and should not be understood to be, a criticism of Irishman. It is not generally taken as an insult to the other 11 disciples to question the motives and disinterestedness of Mr. Judas Iscariot.—St. Louis Republic.

William, the Jestor.

It strikes the Philadelphia papers that there is something exceedingly grotesque in the spectacle of William E. Chandler pleading for fair play in the game of politics. They credit him with a fine sense of humor.—Boston Herald.

A Spectacle for Gods and Men.

Whitelaw Reid, republican candidate for vice-president, in his Tribune, with D. O. Mills' millions behind him, championing Andrew Carnegie as a labor philanthropist, writing a book on "the mutual duties of employers and laborers," is a spectacle for the political gods of this day and generation to contemplate!—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

His Reason for Resigning.

It appears that the announcement that one of the Harrison electors on the republican ticket in Connecticut had resigned because he is a national bank director needs to be amended. The reason why the gentleman resigned is because he cherishes the highest respect for Mr. Cleveland, and is opposed to McKinleyism. His name is I. D. Warner, of Bridgeport, and he has been a life-long republican, besides being one of the leading manufacturers in the state.—Boston Herald.

Matthew Doleful Prophecy.

Col. Alexander K. McClure, who is one of the shrewdest political judges in the country, sent to his paper, the Philadelphia Times, from New York city on Friday, his first positive prediction regarding the result of the elections. The distinguished Philadelphian says that "every development of the last 10 days in this state as elsewhere has shown a positive and growing drift to Cleveland, and there is no reasonable possibility of a revulsion.' He predicts that New York alone will give to Cleveland a majority larger than that against him in the interior of the state four years ago, and that Brooklyn will be at least 5,000 better than in 1888. He states as "an open secret" that "Senator Quay, after a full review of the situation from the inside standpoint, announced to his party managers that New York was hopelessly gone to them."
—Rochester Herald.

Going to be a Great Day for the Classes.

William M. Evarts, in his speech before the Brooklyn republican club, referred to the great interest which the people take in a presidential election. "The election day of a president," he said, "is the great day of the American people." That interest he attributed to the important issues at stake; the awarding of power; the distribution of patronage; the control of immense revenues. Every American citizen is directly interested in this election for a reason which Mr. Evarts forgot to mention. The principal issue between the two parties this year is the indirect tax known as the protective tariff, a tax which is levied on every man, woman and child in the country for the benefit of a few republican fat producers. It will be a great day for the people this year—unless all signs fail.—Chicago Herald.

Can Anybody Tell?

What do the Harrisonian organs mean by howling about Hon. Wayne MacVeagh's attack on Minister Pat Egan "because he is an Irishman?" Mr. MacVeagh made no charges against Egan. Not one. He merely re-stated Whitelaw Reid's charges against Egan, made in the New York Tribune. In his letter Mr. MacVeagh stated that he had never heard of Egan or knew anything about him until Reid accused him of being "a sham patriot" and a defaulter in the matter of Irish home rule funds.

Speaking of the Irish in this country, who are giving aid and sympathy to their brethren at home, Mr. Whitelaw Reid said in the Tribune:

"The Irish influence in questions of an international character is directly hostile to the United States, and it is one of the most serious dangers against which we have to provide. The plain truth is that, where the real or supposed interests of Ireland are concerned, a large and noisy faction of the naturalized Irish in the United States are disloyal, if not treacherous, to the adopted country to which they swore fidelity; but politicians and newspapers are afraid to say so."—Wheeling Register.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.

Wauseon, O., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Detectives Cavanaugh and Robinson of the Lake Shore company have been here for a day or two and are on hot track of the perpetrators of a dastardly attempt to derail the fast mail, which passes through here at midnight at about 60 miles an hour. Two traveling men going to take the west bound train discovered a pile of ties and rubbish on the rails within 200 yards of the depot, and just removed it when the train whirled past. A great loss of life must have resulted had the diabolical attempt succeeded.

Unscrupulous Imitators have sought to profit by the high reputation of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract. Beware of them. Look for the signature of "Johann Hoff" on the neck of every bottle. Eisner & Mendelson Co., New York, Agents. For Colds and Coughs use the Malt Extract hot at bed-time and the genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Bonbons during the day. A pleasant and active remedy.

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, Oct. 13, 1892.

The committee on ways and means of the Common Council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to Monday,

NOVEMBER 14, 1892,

at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds to the amount of One Thousand Eight Hundred and Ninety-Five and 8-100 (1,895.08-100) Dollars, bearing date Oct. 31, 1892, and payable as follows: One Hundred and Eighty-five and 08-100 Dollars on April 30, 1893, and One Hundred and Ninety Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including October 31, 1897, at the office of the city treasurer with interest at rate of five (5) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to Section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Ohio, as amended March 31, 1891, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the city of Toledo, Ohio. "To provide for the issue of Improvement Bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Fifteenth Street, from Monroe Street to Washington Street."—Passed October 19, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds will be first one bond of $185.08 and thereafter one of $190 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor, subject to his call, except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the "Auditor of the City of Toledo, Ohio," and be endorsed "Proposals for Improvement Bonds."

NOTICE.

Teresa McDermott, whose place of residence is unknown, but who is believed to reside without the state of Ohio, will take notice that on the first day of September, 1892, the City of Toledo for the use of John Degnan filed its petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Lucas County, Ohio, and which petition is still pending therein against her and is number 33516 on the docket of said court. The object and prayer of which petition is to enforce the lien of an assessment for the construction of Sewer No. 341 in the alley between Indiana avenue and Germania street against her lot, known as the westerly (30) thirty feet of lot number 149 of the extension of Germania Addition to the city of Toledo, Lucas County, Ohio, and which assessment was confirmed by the Common Council of said city of Toledo on the 9th day of March, 1891, and the amount assessed on said lot was the sum of $28.00. Said petition also prays for a sale of said lot to pay the amount due on said assessment and the costs of this action. Said defendant is required to answer or plead to said petition on or before the 24th day of December, 1892.

TWO DANDY COPS

They Were Too Fly, the Board Thought.

One Dropped and the Other Reduced.

Detective Spore Made a Patrolman.

Detective McLaughlin Cut Off the Pay Roll.

A Long Session of the Police Commissioners in Which They Consider Some Discords in the Force.

The full police board was present at the meeting last night. After the minutes of the former meeting had been read and approved, Health Officer Fisher read the mortality report for October, showing 99 deaths, of which 44 were from zymotic, 2 from constitutional, 38 from local and 10 from developmental diseases. Two bodies were shipped from the lunatic asylum and two to Lockport, N. Y., and six were received for interment.

Dr. Fisher also read the report of the work done by the health office last month; also the report of the city chemist of analysis of milk, water and foods.

The mayor suggested that hereafter it be stated where these things are found.

The clerk read the report of the police inspectors, showing 274 city and 76 state cases.

The resignation of Patrolman R. F. James was presented and accepted.

Mr. Potter presented bills for October: Police station, $371.67; health board, $47.32; pay-roll of officers, $6,418.78; pay-roll health board, $1,990.73. They were accepted and ordered paid.

Detective McLaughlin's Case.

Under the order of unfinished business the McLaughlin case was first taken up as the shorter. Mr. McLaughlin was asked if he had a copy of the charges, and answered in the affirmative. He pleaded not guilty and stated that he was ready for trial. The charges were read, and consisted of allegations that while acting as a special detective engaged by Mr. Pilliod in a case relating to the loss of money by a man in the gambling house of Casper & Grady, he had suggested to Mr. Pilliod to drop the case, and that he (McLaughlin) would see that he (Pilliod) would get his attorney's fees; that he also made the same proposition to Attorney Murphy; and that instead of enforcing the laws he worked in the interest of the gamblers, and instead of suppressing crime he attempted to cover it up by dishonest methods, tending to the crippling of the service.

Attorney Murphy and McLaughlin were sworn, and Mr. Murphy made a statement of his connection with the case of a man named Friederichs, who was said to have lost $900 in Casper & Grady's rooms. At the request of Mr. Pilliod he had looked up the law as to instituting both civil and criminal suits. He went to report to Mr. Pilliod and found Mr. Friedericus with Mr. Pilliod. McLaughlin came in and Mr. Pilliod stated he had employed him to look up the evidence in the case. Witness went with Friederichs and saw Grady, who said he would not make any settlement; but that they had better come again at 6 o'clock, when Casper would be in. They went back, but could get no settlement. Then the necessary papers were drawn up. Next day, in the afternoon, Pilliod made certain statements about the matter and McLaughlin's connection with it. McLaughlin came in and spoke of difficulties of securing witnesses to convict, and that Casper & Grady would like to fix the matter up, and mentioned a conversation on Madison street in which they stated they would rather deal with attorneys than with Friederich. He said in substance that the attorneys would lose nothing by dropping it. Pilliod said he couldn't do anything of that kind for $1,000. He then said, from what McLaughlin told him, it would be impossible to make a case, and he would drop the matter. He got up and went out. McLaughlin then said witness might get $25 as well as not; but he could not accept. Witness met Mr. Pilliod soon after and asked if he meant to drop the case, and he said by no means; that he was satisfied McLaughlin was not dealing straight, and they would have to drop him. It was agreed to pull the gambling house, which was done, and part of the money was recovered.

Mr. McLaughlin asked if he had offered him any money, and witness replied that he didn't produce any. He didn't say he would give the money. McLaughlin asked if he had not mentioned a conversation. A certain newspaper man was by and heard it, too. Witness replied that might have been said to Mr. Pilliod, who said they had been there to do business; but could not.

Witness refused to answer the question as to whether he had come of his own free will, and McLaughlin said he wished to show that the whole thing was a piece of spite work.

Mr. Murphy said he had made no statement till he was asked; but was not sent for.

Mr. Pilliod was called; but was not present. Just as the board was about to take up the other case—that of Detective Spore—he came in, and was sworn with his overcoat on and hat in hand. He gave much the same evidence as had Mr. Murphy. His desire was to try and make the property in which the gambling room was situated liable. Mr. Gorman was afflicted with deafness and poor, and raised his sympathies. Being busy with other matters, he sent for Mr. Murphy and also for McLaughlin, who had done other work for him. All the information McLaughlin brought was that Casper & Grady were the proprietors of the place, and said he would get $100 for the attorney to let the Dutchman drop, as the gamblers knew if our man got anything others would be after them. McLaughlin asked if he might say we had dropped the case, and was told it would be dropped. At the same time there was no intention of doing so. It was proceeded with and $700 recovered.

In answer to Mr. McLaughlin the witness said there was something about a conversation to pay $100 to the attorneys rather than to the victim. He was to get $100 if he let the Dutchman drop. McLaughlin had worked for him before. He felt he was sought to be bribed, and was very angry; but didn't want to show it then. Casper had come to his office and declared he never authorized McLaughlin to make any offer. McLaughlin heard something and remonstrated with him for saying he was dealing double, and witness told him he thought he was.

To McLaughlin's question as to whether, if he had been dealing double, would he not have gone and warned the gamblers, Mr. Pilliod did not know, but was satisfied if the police board had not been in session the night the $700 was got, they would not have got anything.

Answering Mr. Stager, Mr. Pilliod said he understood the offer came from these parties through McLaughlin, who did say he overheard a conversation at the Body house.

McLaughlin asked if he had not asked about the dropping of the case, adding the suggestion that there would be no use for him. Mr Pilliod answered that he did say he had no more use for him, and didn't want him.

Mr. Potter asked McLaughlin if he had seen the gamblers after, to tell them. The reply was an indignant "No, sir," and a defiance to any man to say so. McLaughlin then made his statement. It agreed in the main with those of Messrs. Murphy and Pilliod, the difference being that he claimed to have merely brought them a report of a conversation between Casper and Brady, overheard by Mr. Bolles, of the Blade, as well as himself. He spoke of the $15 a month paid him by the city, and of the knowledge the members of the board had of him, and of arrests he had made, and of private work done for the best people, and declared he had never dealt double. He did not see why there should be any jealousy, but it was evident there was. He referred to notifications sent him by Judge Sala. The chief had asked his resignation; but he refused to resign and demanded an investigation, as there must be some spite work. He was liable to be discharged from the Pennsylvani road, though there had never been a stain on his character for ten years, and had done good work for the department. He had been an officer here when some of these people were in foreign countries. The gamblers had no use for him. If he had interfered in any case in the city it was because the mayor and members of the board had told him to do what he could.

In answer to Mr. Stager, he denied offering $100 himself or for anybody. These people did not authorize him to do so. He thought Mr. Bolles overheard the whole conversation, and as for himself, he straightway told Mr. Pilliod of it.

Answering Mr. Doville he could not or would not accuse any particular person of jealousy, but argued it from the aspect of the case. He was particularly warm about notes from Judge Sala, one of which he read. He did not know how this private conversation had been divulged, but a gambler had come to him after having heard it.

Messrs. Murphy and Pilliod explained how the sheriff was engaged to do the work in the case, and declared there was no intention of slighting the police. The sheriff with a warrant could take money from the persons of the prisoners. In explaining this to the chief of police Mr. Murphy stated he had told the whole story, supposing he would say nothing about it.

Chief Raitz told of the conversation with Mr. Murphy as to why the sheriff had been employed. He also talked to Mr. Pilliod, who advised him to ask McLaughlin to resign.

McLaughlin wanted to know why, if he was guilty, he should be asked to resign. He should be reprimanded if so.

The Spore Investigation.

Detective Spore was called in at 9:30 and the charges read. He pleaded not guilty. Messrs. Bolan, O'Day and Harmon were sworn as witnesses, and John Bolan first examined as to the release of prisoners on September 5. Their friends wanted to get them out and he referred them to the lieutenant. They met Spore and on promise that the men would leave town early in the morning they were released.

Sam Harmon testified to the same effect, and further, in answer to questions, said he had kept the gambling room over the Wabash saloon, and had seen Detective Spore there.

Objections by Mr. Richardson, who appeared for Mr. Spore, were overruled, who declared the witnesses would not be criminated by answering the questions.

Witness had seen Mr. Spore playing roulette once or twice, but not to amount to anything.

O'Day, who was Harmon's partner, testified similarly. He had lent one of the prisoners referred to $50 to go to Greenville, Mich.

Lieut. O'Dwyer had not been consulted in regard to the release of those prisoners, though in charge that night.

Turnkey Souder explained the orders for releases, and explained that until recently prisoners arrested on suspicion by the detectives had been released on request of the chief of detectives. He had released the three men, as he understood, by orders of Chief Spore.

Sergeant Scott testified that the right to release lay with the officer in charge, and never knew that the chief of detectives had the right. He heard Mr. Spore remark to the chief that before any gambling houses were pulled he would like to be notified.

In cross-examination he stated that he had been at the head of the department from '68 to '72 and again from '79 to '83. There was no regularly appointed chief of detectives. He only inferred that gambling places were mentioned in the coversation between the chiefs.

Samuel S. Walker, turnkey since 1891, released prisoners on the order of the chief of police, or, in his absence, the officer in charge, and understood he had no authority to release from Mr. Spore. He released one prisoner on his order, a prisoner to be taken away, with the understanding it came from the chief of police, but afterwards found out it did not. He would not have released him if he had known that.

On cross-examination he stated he was on alternately night and day—one from 7 to 3, another 3 to 10, and the other 10 to 7. An officer would come down and say to release a prisoner on order of the chief; never released but one on the order of Mr. Spore.

Harmon Knold, turnkey, got orders to release prisoners from the chief or the man in charge; had released a couple on order of the chief of detectives—prisoners in on suspicion.

Delbert Hall, detective for about six months, saw Spore at gambling houses a couple of times, at Harmon and O'Day's, over Wallace's. He bet a little on roulette, since he became chief of detectives. We have gone round to the different gambling houses, and never saw him gamble but twice. He might have lost $40 in three different places in one night.

On cross examination the witness said he went to learn the different gamblers at Mr. Spore's request. He never gambled with his own money, but did with chips given him by Mr. Spore. Spore might have lost $40, but he didn't know. They went to all, and didn't stop long at any one place.

Detective Nichter had been in gambling houses with Spore and named several places. Spore gambled on the wheel and lost a couple of dollars. Only saw him once. The day the Tip-o-Tip gang was arrested, a man told witness a watch a man was after was sold at a certain place. He brought the watch to the station to see if it was stolen, and Mr. Spore claimed he was going to write to the different cities about it. Witness did not know what became of the watch.

On cross-examination witness said he went round the gambling places to see who was there. He didn't gamble any, and they only stayed about 20 or 25 minutes in each place, going from one to the other.

To the mayor he stated that he went after the watch himself, and Mr. Rosen came with him. Rosen said he gave $5 for the watch.

Israel Rosen, through an interpreter, testified he bought the watch for $5. Mr. Nichter came after it. He gave $5 for it, and didn't know whether it was gold or not. When he spoke to Spore the latter told him he wouldn't be the loser, and gave him $5 for it. He went to Spore afterwards and asked about the watch, and was told if it was not stolen he would get it back. Spore did not put him out of the room. He went two or three times about it. He did not know where it was, but thought Mr. Spore had it. Spore showed him the watch on Monday.

Chief Raitz testified that he gave orders to Mr. Spore about arresting crooks and gamblers; finally told him something had to be done, and Spore said before any of them were arrested he would like to be notified. He kept talking to him about the gambling houses, and that they were running too open and there would be a howl, and told him he should send an officer to each and report every gambling hole in the city. He sent out two detectives and had them report direct. All stolen property should be turned over to the secretary. Detective Spore was allowed to take charge of such property as only he and Mr. Durian could open the safe readily. He ordered Mr. Spore to turn over all stolen property to the secretary and understood he had not turned over a watch, for which he had given $5. He had a letter from Indiana with the numbers of several stolen watches, and sent to Mr. Spore to see if this was one of them, but he refused to send it. He said he would not turn it over under the circumstances. He was told Mrs. Spore were the watch and that her name was in it, but had no evidence to that effect.

On cross-examination he did not remember who told about Mrs. Spore. Prior to the charges he never said anything about the watch. He first heard about it six or eight weeks ago. The charges were presented October 19. He had ordered him before that to turn over all this property. He said nothing about the watch, thinking it an opportunity to test Spore's honesty. The prisoners were released by order of Spore, who said as they had promised to leave the city he thought it would be all right. He denied ever giving orders to Spore not to report to Lieut. O'Dwyer. Spore had released one prisoner after claiming it was on permission of Sergeant Robinson, who denied it.

Detective Spore testified in his own behalf, detailing the circumstances of the release of the prisoner on assurance of their leaving town. He refused to release one who had promised to leave, and did not. His orders from Chief Raitz had been to report direct to him, and not to report in any case to Lieut. O'Dwyer, as things had got into the newspapers that should not have been published. He was to keep reports and report to the chief in the morning. All he recollected saying about wanting to know of arrests was that before his men pulled any place he wanted to know if they had a good case. In going about the gambling houses with other detectives to learn who was about, he had played a little, as was customary for detectives in such places. To September 3 he had not risked a penny, and up to last August, had not been in a gambling house anywhere for two years. He detailed minutely his rounds of the gambling houses with Hall and Nichter, and told the small in several places. He had metrdluupuppp amounts played in several places. He had met Chief Raitz and Judge Sala and told them where he had been and what he had done, and that he had won $1.20 in one place off a quarter. They went into Lou Hanner's and had something. He had not lost $40 in 20 years gambling. From June 22 to August 31 he had released 43 prisoners. He thought he had the right in the case of men arrested by his officers, and there was no fault found. The watch case was also explained. He had taken charge of it, giving Rosen the $5, and had written letters to different cities describing it and two others, one of which Mr. Murphy had. It had remained about the place for a time. This watch was sold to Rosen by Dillon, the third man of the Tip-o-Tip gang, who had escaped. The reports would show that he had reported on the gambling places running, with the number of people, their ages and what they were playing. Only such reports as his men brought him could he give to the chief of police.

On cross-examination Mr. Spore denied that he had told Messrs. Sala and Raitz that he was $7 ahead of the game; and afterwards both Raitz and Sala swore he did say so. The judge declared he only took a cigar that time.

Mr. Richardson argued that only merely technical irregularities had been made out in the gambling charge, such as were natural in the business, and that the other charges were of no weight.

Mr. Murphy dwelt on the taking of the watch as a dishonest act, argued that Mr. Spore not only gambled himself, but induced Hall, a novice, to gamble, and that if Judge Sala and Chief Raitz were to be believed, he had lied about it.

It was now midnight, and Mr. Doville wanted to go home; but the other members decided to stay. After some consultation by the members, Mr. Potter at 12:40 moved that while some things Mr. Spore had done were justifiable, others were not. In view of the trouble on the detective force, he thought Mr. Spore would not be a good man to continue there, so moved his reduction to a patrolman. Mr. Stager seconded, and all voted aye.

Mr. Potter also spoke on Mr. McLaughlin's case, and moved to cut him off from connection with the city. Mr. Doville made a speech denunciatory of Mr. McLaughlin, and seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

The vacancy on the detective force was left for future consideration. Then the board proceeded to abolish the offices of health officer and meat and vegetable inspector, increase the salaries to $1,550 and $1,230 a year respectively, and reappoint Dr. Fisher and Walter Brown.

The mayor ordered the regular course for a $5 reward, and the board adjourned at 1 o'clock in the morning.

Before leaving the room Mr. Richardson, who had appeared for Mr. Spore, said he was glad to know that his client was not guilty of any charge; yet had been punished.

DOUBLE POSTAL CARDS.

You May Now Write a Friend and Send Him Means of Replying.

The new return postal card, the design of which was so lately approved by Postmaster General Wanamaker, is being used. There are two forms of the card, one for domestic and the other for the International postal union service, cuts of the former of which are herewith presented. The double card, as it appears upon purchase, consists, on the face, of the message card, which is much similar to an ordinary postal, above which is the blank or reverse side of the return card, separated from the former half by a slight line of perforation, so that upon bending the half it will not easily become detached.

The message card is 3 1-2 inches wide by 5 1-2 inches long. At the top of the card to the left of the vignette of General Grant, in the right hand corner, are engraved with black ink in three lines one above the other the words, "Postal Card with Paid Reply," "United States of America," and in small type, "This side for the address only." Inscribed around the top of the vignette of General Grant is the legend, "Message Card," and below, "One Cent."

In the lower left hand corner are the words: "Detach annexed card for answer." The face of the return card is similar to the message card, save the words, "Reply Postal Card," are substituted for "Postal Card with Paid Reply." The price of the card is two cents. The international card is somewhat smaller than that for domestic use, but is like it in arrangement and all essential particulars, save that a liberty head with the legend, "Two cents," is substituted for General Grant's vignette.

SUCCESSFUL JAIL DELIVERY.

Three Prisoners Make Their Escape From the Allen County Prison.

Lima, O., Nov. 3.—Another jail delivery took place here yesterday, and three prisoners escaped. The fourth one, Asbury Johnson, a colored man, could not get through the hole in the window, so he gave the alarm to Sheriff O'Neill. It occurred about 2:30 o'clock. The prisoners gained their liberty by sawing off the iron grates in the window on the west side of the jail.

Joseph Crider, charged with shooting to kill Dr. Wetherill, of Bluffton, E. M. Hall, and James M. Williams, charger with forgery, gained their liberty. They let themselves down to the ground, and were tracked in the mud for several squares, where all trace was lost. There were six prisoners in the jail, including Harry Stevenson, the boy who shot and killed Ed Radebaugh at McBeth's Lake. Had Johnson made his escape it is likely all would have egot away. The prisoners had all been locked in their cells, but got out by means of a false key.

The sheriff thinks that Joe Crider, who is an excellent mechanic, engineered the work. Several relatives visited him lately, and it is believed that they brought him saws and other tools. The other prisoners say that the work of sawing out had been going on for the last three night. Telegrams have been sent to all the neighboring towns, but no trace has been found of the prisoners as yet.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.
Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.
The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!
You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages, to Fremont.

Dry Goods.

New York, Nov. 3.—Business in dry goods tends to moderate as the week advances and the election excitement increases, but buyers keep close watch of tendencies, which in all are in favor of a strong and higher market, especially for cotton goods. To-day Andoscoggin wide sheetings were advanced from 1-2 to 1c a yard. The print market was especially strong, goods for future delivery being mainly "at value."

Manchester.

Manchester, Nov. 3.—The Guardian, in its commercial article, says: Yesterday's market was decidedly disappointing to sellers. Although the market was fairly firm there were few opportunities of effecting sales. The poor demand was due to the inadequate prices offered in the markets abroad, especially in the east. The uncertainties in connection with exchange and the probable outturn of cotton inspire caution. Dearer yarn compels sellers to ask higher prices than merchants are disposed to give, though extreme quotations were abandoned, and in some cases the market was rather easier. The sudden increase in cotton receipts has made buyers doubly cautious.

Turpentine.

Wilmington, Nov. 3.—Firm at 28c.

SHUTTING OFF THE GAS.

A New Trouble Will Have to be Surmounted.

St. Marys, O., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The gas field near this city is menaced by a new and mysterious element that is shortening the already scant supply of natural gas. What it is, is best told in the words of Superintendent Reichenderfer of the Lima Natural Gas company, who was in this city to-day. Said he: "We have a new element to contend with. Not only have three of the wells just drilled been affected, but a dozen of our best producing wells have experienced the same trouble.

"It is a new substance to us: what it is we don't know. It is neither salt water nor oil, but a black, thick matter, which is very effectual in stopping the flow of gas.

"We have been at work cleaning out the wells and they are fairly successful, but in 10 hours time the trouble reoccurs and the work has to be done over."

Your correspondent inspected a sample of the matter and found it to be a black, thick mixture smelling of oil, with a slight salt taste, but there is evidence of a foreign substance, in all probability limestone in the solution. A quantity had been evaporated in a cup, the residuum being a soft, black powder resembling black limestone shale, a formation lying above and below the Trenton rock on the oil and gas bearing strata.

WRECKING.

Why the Canadian Agreement Didn't Work.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 3.—The Empire (government organ) gives the following as the real reason for the reciprocal wrecking agreement arrived at between the governments of the United States and Canada last winter not going into effect: The first clause of the act passed by the Dominion parliament last winter says: "United States vessels and wrecking appliances may save any property wrecked and may render aid and assistance to any vessels wrecked, disabled or in distress in the waters of Canada contiguous to the United States."

The United States government, it appears, claims that the privilege should extend to the canals of Canada, but it cannot be contended for a moment that they are "contiguous waters."

The Dominion government says that the United States' claim cannot be granted, as Canada must retain full control over her canal system, but in every other respect the fullest privilege will be accorded to our neighbors in this particular matter.

Reliable alarm clocks, $1—Cawood's.

MILLER WILL RETIRE.

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—It is announced here by the friends of W. H. H. Miller, attorney-general of the United States, that he will retire from the cabinet soon after the election, no matter what the result of the contest may be. Mr. Miller will re-enter the practice of law in this city with John D. Elam, who was a member of the old law firm of Harrison, Elam and Miller.

New engagement rings, $5—Cawood's.

"Candee" Rubbers are reliable. Good Merchants have them in stock.

Elgin watches, $20, $25—Cawood's.

PRESTON C. HUDSON,

The Democratic Nominee for Common Pleas Judge.

To the Editor: Preston C. Hudson seems to be a terrible bug-bear to the brilliantly equipped attorneys of this city, so far as the qualifications of an attorney are concerned. It appears generally along the line that Mr. Hudson is a powerful and winning antagonist from the way in which the "old-line" republican papers have heaped their abuse upon him. They have advanced no argument against him; it has simply been a series of abuses founded upon nothing any more than to try and weaken the chances of a man who knows more about law in its proper sense than his opponent ever learned.

Mr. Hudson issues a challenge to Judge Pugsley or any other attorney in this city that he will meet them in common law, statutory and Ohio decisions, and if he can not mention every one of them, one by one, with Judge Pugsley, or any other of the judges of this state, from the common pleas bench up to the supreme court, then he will ask no further favors.

The republicans have met a man at last whom they are afraid of, and they can not show the merits of their candidate up by a fair and square issue, and for that reason Mr. P. C. Hudson has to be abused.

Fellow electors of this judicial district, stop for a moment and compare the manly, upright and intellectual contest which Mr. Hudson has conducted, compared to that of his opponent. Mr. Hudson has never allowed a mean or derogatory word to be said against his opponent, Judge Pugsley, because, as Mr. Hudson says, the bench should be kept above the whims of party politics.

Here the people of this common pleas judicial district have a man who has refused to enter into any low scheme to gain him votes. They have a man who has withstood the lowest and most virulent attacks that could ever be made upon a man, and still he has never lost his dignity nor tried to take advantage of the hundreds who will never vote for Judge Pugsley because he has allowed the papers which support him to go along and make dirty, virulent and uncalled for attacks upon a man who has always tried to do his duty as a citizen of this country. If that day has arrived when a man can not be elected to an office on his own merits, then it is time to call a halt, and ascertain what this country was made for, and why we should call ourselves a country of liberty, and free people.

Why are all these dirty attacks made upon Mr. Hudson? Has he not shown himself to be a true and noble man in every sense of the word? Has he said a mean or dirty word against Judge Pugsley, or has he allowed any of his friends to say a mean word against the bench? Why are the republicans heaping abuse daily upon the head of a man who refuses to stoop so low as to notice their dirty flings at him? Is the bench to be pulled down so low that the whims and contortions of politicians must prevail instead of the God-given rights of justice?

Are the people of this judicial district prepared to elect a man to fill the position of common pleas judge who has allowed the worst kind of personal abuse to be heaped upon the head of his antagonist and never made a protest against it?

Does Judge Pugsley think that it is dignified and in keeping with the dignity of the bench that he should countenance such a thing as seeing his opponent maligned and abused? Has Mr. Hudson ever said an unkind word against Judge Pugsley? Then why should such low, mean, dirty, despicable tricks be resorted to, to defeat him? It appears that you are all afraid of him. You have done everything to anger him and make him lose self-control of his passions, but you have not done it. Mr. Hudson is a terrible thorn in your sides because he is a man who considers himself not above the common people. He is an American, a scholar, a liberal-minded man, a charitable man, a just man, and a man who will honor the judicial bench such as no man ever honored it before.

Why are you turning all your batteries on Mr. Hudson? Is he not qualified to be a judge? Has not Judge Pugsley asked of you to cease your abuse of him? Pigmies may howl and bark around Mr. Hudson, but the people will be with him on election day. He is one of the people. He is a man of broad and mature judgment, and would never shield the wealthy rogue in order to punish the poor unfortunate.

Mr. Hudson is a man of the people, for the people, and will be judge by the people. The democratic papers have treated Judge Pugsley fairly in this campaign, but the republican papers have carried on a low, personal, uncalled for fight against Mr. Preston C. Hudson, and the result is to-day that Mr. Hudson will sweep the district by an overwhelming majority on account of the low abuse which has been heaped against him.

Mr. Hudson has to make no affidavit as to his standing. The supreme court of Iowa knows who he is. There are a few lawyers going around harping about Mr. Hudson, and there is not one of them who could stand before him two minutes so far as actual legal learning is concerned.

Mr. Hudson is no attorney of the corporations. He is a friend of the people, and if you vote for him on election day, you will have on the bench one of the greatest, purest, noblest and fair-minded judges who ever sat on a bench in Lucas county. Mr. Hudson is the poor man's friend, and so do not be led away by crank attorneys who would not expect so many favors.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Michigan Street Turnpiking.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 14TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1892,

for improving Michigan street from the northwesterly gutter line of Vandalia street to the southwesterly gutter line of Cincinnati street by turnpiking the central thirty feet thereof together with necessary drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for that part chargeable to the city in cash within ninety days after the acceptance of the work and the remainder of the cost will be paid in an assessment levied upon the abutting property in one installment, payable in ten days after the passage and legal publication of the assessing ordinance.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of ..... dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (for double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council.

SYLVESTER LAMB, City Clerk.

NOTICE.—Manosa A. Wertenberger and —— Wertenberger his wife, whose residences are unknown, will take notice that on the 24th day of October, 1892, the city of Toledo for the use of John S. Eck, filed its petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Lucas County, Ohio, in case No. 33743 against the above named parties and others, praying for the foreclosure of an assessment levied and assessed by the Common Council of said city on lot number 185 the sum of $8.47; on lot number 186 the sum of $5.93; on lot number 187 the sum of $5.93, in the McLean Glassboro Addition to the city of Toledo, Lucas County, Ohio, to pay for constructing a plank sidewalk four feet in width on the east side of Brigham street in front of said lots, on which the above sums are due with interest thereon from the 27th day of November, 1890, and the sum of twenty per cent. penalty thereon, plaintiff prays that said defendant —— Wertenberger, wife of Manosa A. Wertenberger, be required to set up by answer herein what interest if any she has in said premises and in default of such answer she be forever barred from claiming any interest in said real estate. Said parties are required to answer on or before the 17th day of December, 1892, or judgment will be taken against them.

NOTICE.

David R. Phillips and Florence Phillips, his wife, whose residence is unknown to plaintiff, but who are supposed to reside in the village of Brownsville, in the state of Pennsylvania, will take notice that on the first day of September, 1892, the city of Toledo, Ohio, for the use of Curtis & Brainard, a partnership in said city, filed its petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Lucas County, Ohio, and which petition is still pending therein, being cause No. 33515 on the docket of said court. The object and prayer of which petition is to enforce the lien of an assessment for the construction of Sewer No. 520 in the alley between Orchard street and Peony avenue in said city of Toledo, and which assessment was confirmed by the Common Council of said city on June 1st, 1891, the amount of said assessment against Lot No. 30 of Shaw and Wells' 2nd addition to Toledo, Ohio, owned by said David R. Phillips and Florence Phillips being the sum of $34.66.

And said petition also prays for a sale of said lot to pay the amount due on said assessment and the costs of this action. Said defendants are required to answer or plead to said petition on or before the 27th day of December, 1892.

MAN'S SENSE OF TOUCH.

The sense of touch in man is most highly developed on the skin, but mucous or serious suffaces are also capable of conveying impressions, says Chamber's Journal. Some parts of the body are more sensitive than others, and are usually devoid of hairs, as the tip of the tongue, the ends of the fingers an the lips. It will be noticed that these are so situated as to keep us conveniently informed of what is going on around us.

Some of our most important organs—for instance, the heart, the brains and the lungs—are, strange to say, quite insensible to touch, thus showing that not only are nerves necessary for the sensation, but also the special end organs.

The curous fact was noticed with the greatest astonishment by Harvey, who, while treating a patient for an abscess that caused a large cavity in his side, found that when he put his fingers into this cavity, he could actually take hold of the heart without the patient being in the least aware of what he was doing! This so interested Harvey that he brought King Charles I. to the man's bedside that "he might himself behold and touch so extraordinary a thing."

In certain operations a piece of skin is removed from the forehead to the nose; and it is stated that the patient, oddly enough, feels as if the new nasal part were still in his forehead, and may have a headache in his nose!

HINDOO WOMEN

The women of the dark-skinned Hindoo race are remarkable for their physical beauty. Below the medium height (from a European standpoint) their carriage is erect and exceedingly graceful. The long, swinging motion which they affect in walking is produced by their habit of carrying all kinds of merchandise on the head. The Hindoo head is small and the face is refined, with delicately chiseled features. The hair, "woman's crowning glory," is blue-black and very abundant. It is worn parted in the middle and drawn down straight behind the ears, being coiled at the back of the head in a heavy knot.

They practice the barbaric custom of piercing the nose, through which a gold or silver ring is inserted. The fingers of the small black hands are usually covered with rings of various kinds, while silver bracelets adorn the slender wrists. Rings are worn also frequently on the toes, and the women are seldom seen without heavy silver anklets.

The single garment worn by the Hindoo woman consists of a long scarf, always of some white material, which is dexterously woven about the body until it forms a skirt and what looks like a sleeveless jacket.

Their caste is denoted by the color of the mark which the priest of the Brahman religion places each morning on their foreheads.

SLEEPING CAR LINEN, ETC.

The item of washing is a very costly one in the running of sleeping cars, inasmuch as every piece of linen is sent to the laundry immediately after being used once. A sleeper on leaving New York for Chicago or St. Louis receives a "stock" of 120 linen sheets, 120 pillow slips and 120 towels. This gives change for two nights. Fifteen or twenty clean towels are always kept on the washstand. The washing is done in New York, Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities, being given out in large quantities at the low rate of $1 per 100 pieces. An equipment of linen lasts about one year, at the end of which time it must be renewed. It is purchased by wholesale, $50,000 worth at a time.

The quantities of small household supplies required for these cars are astonishing. One company, for 700 such vehicular conveyances, uses up every 30 days 2,400 dozen cakes of toilet soap, 1,200 dozen boxes of matches, 35 dozen French imported hair brushes, 50 dozen whisks and 60 dozen combs, as well as a vast number of sponges and feather dusters. Mattresses and blankets are provided and replaced at the factory, to which every car goes at regular intervals of four or five months for tinkering up and general repairs.

EARLY USE OF THE HANDKERCHIEF.

It was not until the reign of the Empress Josephine in France that the pocket handkerchief was tolerated at all as an article for public use. No lady would have dared to use one in the presence of others. Even the name was carefully avoided in polite conversation. It was only in the beginning of the present century that Mlle. Duchesnois, a famous actress, dared to appear with a handkerchief in her hand. A translation of one of Shakespeare's plays by Alfred de Vigney was acted, and the word was used for the first time upon the stage and provoked a storm of indignant hisses from all parts of the house. The Empress Josephine, although a beautiful woman, had very bad teeth, and to conceal them she was in the habit of carrying small handkerchiefs trimmed with costly laces, which she raised gracefully to her lips to conceal her teeth. The ladies of the court followed her example, and handkerchiefs rapidly became an important part of the feminine toilet.—New York Herald.

SAVING THE CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

A correspondent writing to the Boston Transcript says: "Amateur chrysanthemum growers may be glad to hear of a discovery which I made the other day. Upon one shoot of a choice plant I discovered a lively colony of black and green aphides, the first that has appeared this year. Having in the house some very reliable flea soap, I used an old shaving brush and made a very thick lather, coating the whole branch thoroughly. When the lather had become dry I observed with satisfaction that the aphides were all dead. They have not reappeared and the plant is uninjured."

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

RENAN AS A DINER-OUT.

Till the death of Emile Augier, M. Renan and the great playwright were supposed to be the most charming diners-out in France, where table wit abounds, and when the two met in the same house those present had an intellectual treat of no mean order, says the London Chronicle. M. Renan was proud of belonging to the academy, but his keen sense of humor made him see the slightly absurd position of les quarante.

He was fond of telling a story illustrative of the extraordinary place the academy holds in bourgeoise estimation abroad. One day during one of the great exhibitions he was standing in the section given over to old and rare books. A gendarme standing near him pointed to a case in which were contained some of the crusaders' manuscripts splendidly bound in illuminated vellum. "Monsieur," he asked timidly, "I suppose that all those beautiful books are those which have been crowned by the French Academy?"

A FRENCHWOMAN'S BATH.

A Frenchwoman takes a bath of 20 minutes' length, a cold shower bath of five after that and then a rest of half an hour. After this her throat and neck are sprayed with elderflower water or violet water, and gently rubbed until the surface has a clear, ivory hue.

Scented orris powder is rubbed into the hair and carefully brushed out again, leaving a faint fragrance impossible of attainment by any other process.

A delicate cream is rubbed over the face and smoothed off again after 10 minutes, obliterating every wrinkle and care line, every trace of weariness, and then my French madame is ready to be dressed.

GIRLS WITH SEA LEGS.

"Do you know," said a pretty girl to a New York World writer the other day, "that the very latest fad is the sea roll? I noticed it first one day on Broadway, and wondered if every girl had been imbibing or whether I myself was verging on delirium tremens. You know the style—a sort of side-to-side movement in consonance with the roll of a vessel. Well, that's it, and the reason for it is that with such a gait one can impress beholders with the idea of an ocean voyage—trip to Europe, etc., and that they have not yet become rid of their sea legs. Funny, isn't it?"

MANY MEN
MANY MINDS.

That there are thousands of them was shown when at 8 o'clock Monday morning our doors opened upon one of the most stupendous Clothing Sales ever inaugurated in this city.

With the opening hour came crowds of people; and this stream of humanity swelled as the day grew older, until every aisle was jammed with an eager throng, all deeply bent upon securing the immense values offered in the assortment of

$10-SUITS-$10

Of which we are offering the greatest variety you, or any other buyer of clothing, ever saw. In reality we're selling dollars for 80 cents.

It was a Gaand Triumphal March! and will be continued to-day and all this week, when the Scores of Bargains Advertised, and Thousands more beside, will be spread before the People. We have enough—and room enough—for all. It is a glorious opportunity.

THE CAUSE.—You wonder at it; we'll tell you the why. We have an unusually large stock of Men's and Boys' Suits, secured by heavy purchases early in the season. We haven't room to show our Overcoats, of which we have received large shipments. The Suits must go to make room for them. We're crowded for room; walk through our salesroom and see for yourself.

TO FIT YOUR BODY and your ideas; here you'll find prices so very much below other houses that you'll be surprised, and that difference will not be a dollar or two, but as much as three to five dollars.

We'd like to talk to you about these Suits. You have been to our clothing shop. You know something about the class of goods we have sold for years. The Latest and Handsomest Designs, The Newest and Nobbiest Shades in Cloth, taken altogether, The Qualities, The Fit, The Workmanship and The Prices must be right, or the volume of our business would not be so far in excess of previous seasons.

TO GO A STEP FURTHER: If it is your desire to save the purse from wasteful expenditure. These Suits cost only $10.00. This certainly is not much. Really it would be a pleasure for us to show them to you.
